Crime Wave Of Increasing Size Sweeping Tokyo

Hunger And Unemployment Given As Chief Causes Of Lawlessness

WARN WOMEN TO REMAIN AT HOME

By JOHN R. HENRY
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

TOKYO, Oct. 19.—A crime wave in war-devastated Tokyo reached full-blown proportions today with a large number of murders, robberies and rapes being reported to the Japanese metropolitan police board.

The overworked police force, striving to control the situation before the onsets of winter add to the hardships of the people, issued an official bulletin warning women to keep off the streets at night.

All parents were notified it is even unsafe to send their daughters on buying expeditions in the daytime, so acute is the danger of being attacked or robbed of any footcloths they may be carrying.

Wave Of Lawlessness

Hunger and unemployment among the Japanese were the main causes of the wave of lawlessness sweeping the city and in crimes were attributed to American occupation forces.

No immediate easing of the food shortage was in sight but the government was bending every effort to launch exports of silk and other Japanese products in order to pay for food imports from other countries.

The home ministry made still another move to restore order with the announcement that more than half of the country's prefectural governors would be dismissed and civilian appointees named to fill their places.

Governors Resign

Several prefectural governors in southern Honshu and Kyushu announced their resignations.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Some residents of the city are careless where they burn their leaves. Several piles were seen burning on some of the newly asphalted streets.

A young lad stepped up to one of the local bus operators a few days ago to purchase 50 cents worth of tokens. The driver was amused to receive a neat roll of 50 pennies instead of the usual half dollar.

Postwar improvements are in full stride about the city. A barricade was being erected Thursday in the 200 block of East Washington street indicating a brand new store front was to emerge.

An old abandoned laundry in the East Side district is noted for its activity these days. Instead of clean shirts, the plant is producing batteries.

Jay walking continues on the downtown streets. One pedestrian narrowly escaped being hit Thursday when he stepped out from behind a truck in the middle of the block into the path of oncoming traffic.

October's bright blue weather has finally arrived, and what might easily be called Indian summer is in our midst. Pa News is one boy who hopes that it will last for an indefinite period.

Pa News has been informed that youths in the Winter avenue district have been taking milk bottles from front porches during the past few nights, with the evident purpose of scattering them around over the pavement in broken pieces during the Halloween season. Nothing more vicious could be done, because of the still great scarcity of tires.

Indicate President To Urge Compulsory Military Training

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(INS)—Congressional sources heard today that President Truman plans to advocate outright compulsory military training for the nation's youth when he appears before a joint session of Congress on Tuesday.

It is understood that the Truman plan will call for one year of compulsory military training for the nation's youth between the ages of 18 and 21. The President's proposal will run along the general lines of the recommendation recently made by Army Chief of Staff Gen. George C. Marshall in his biennial report.

By adopting this course, President Truman apparently is knowingly heading into another storm of congressional protests.

The Chief Executive suffered a setback in his legislative program recently when the House Ways and Means committee refused to give immediate consideration to his program of liberalizing unemployment payments to $25 a week for 26 weeks.

In the present situation, congressional sentiment is overwhelmingly opposed to any training program for young men that smacks of conscription. So outspoken have

BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 19.—Argentina's seething political turmoil subsided today following a 24-hour general strike—the worst in the nation's history—which culminated in anti-Semitic riots and death or injury to dozens of persons.

Army Prepares For Trials Of Accused Japs

By PAT ROBINSON
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

MANILA, Oct. 19.—The army took further steps today to expedite the trials of suspected Japanese war criminals by erecting temporary housing for subordinate trials to be held simultaneously with those of Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita and Lt. Gen. Masaharu Homma.

Pre-fabricated huts for the courts were being set up on the grounds around the old home of the high commissioner where the more important trials will be held.

However, the trials of Filipino collaborators, numbering in the thousands, are expected to continue for years.

Suitable Courtrooms Sought
The war criminal trials already are hitting snags. The people's court refuse to sit unless suitable courtrooms are supplied for them.

Thus far only one courtroom is available in the repaired section of old Bilibid Prison.

Assistant Filipino Prosecutor Juan Laya said he will be lucky if he is able to try five hundred collaborators in a year and many more thousands await trial.

Long trials are inevitable," he said, "because we operate under the American system wherein two witnesses are imperative for each treason accusation."

Laya said if the French system were used where affidavits are submitted and the accused can be convicted in absentia, the proceedings could be much quicker.

Tax Reduction Bill May Reach Senate Monday

Senate Finance Committee Is Making Some Changes In House Approved Measure

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(INS)—The senate finance committee today took the expedient step of its 1945 tax-reducing program today, approving a bill totaling four billion $80 million dollars for individuals and corporations.

Working at top speed, the committee planned to finish the measure late today and send it to the senate floor Monday.

But storm signals were promptly raised in the house on at least one decision of the senate committee, that eliminating the 10 per cent minimum tax cut guarantee for upper bracket taxpayers backed by house Republicans.

Rep. Knutson (R-Minn.) ranking minority member of the house ways and means committee, raised the other senate proposals as helpful to business and employment generally, but had this to say about adding the 10 per cent reduction guarantee.

Mystery Deepens In Slaying Of Detroit Woman

DETROIT, Oct. 19.—(INS)—The mystery surrounding the brutal slaying of wealthy Russian-born Mrs. Linda Thompson deepened today and Oakland county authorities are attempting to determine if she was a victim of extortionists.

The new lead was followed after the sheriff and prosecutor were told that Mrs. Thompson borrowed $1,000 using her automobile as security, when she had a generous income.

They were informed the money was borrowed only last month from Mrs. Nansie Gentile. The victim of the hatchet murder told Mrs. Gentile she wanted to put her father in business.

Answers Sought
Authorities also sought answers to the following questions:

Why she purchased a revolver last summer and that she did with it.

Battleship New York Docks Amid Cheers At New York Harbor To Join Festivities

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—(INS)—Harbor whistles blared forth in welcome today to the 31-year-old 34,000-ton battleship New York, a veteran of the European and Pacific wars.

White-capped members of the New York's crew lined the decks from stem to stern as the mighty vessel steamed up New York harbor and tied up at a Hudson river pier. She glided in to the music of a War band and the cheers of a boatload of Waves while New York's millions stood by and roared a welcome.

The New York joins the huge armada which will be moored mid-stream in the Hudson for review by President Truman on Navy Day, October 27.

Delay Decision On Wage-Price Policy For U. S.

No Announcement Following Conference By President And Cabinet

NO EXPLANATION FOR POSTPONEMENT

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—President Truman met with his cabinet this morning and discussed details of new wage and price policy, but disclosure of decision reached was delayed by the White House until next week.

The President said yesterday that he would discuss the policy with his cabinet today and that a statement would be issued after the cabinet meeting. This morning, however, White House Secretary Charles G. Rose said that the expected statement would not be forthcoming before Monday.

No Explanation

He gave no explanation for the decision to delay the announcement.

It was believed that the President and the cabinet members discussed possible solutions to the wage-price problem which underlies the wave of industrial strife. The War Labor Board is scheduled to be launched on January 1, and a new agency must be created to handle wage and price problems.

On its third reading, the House of Commons voted yesterday 196 to 108 for the state services, supplies and traditional power bill.

The bill must be considered by the House of Lords but though some opposition was expected its passage was regarded as certain.

Two amendments pushed in the House of Commons by conservatives hoping to restrict governmental powers were decisively defeated, 212 to 83 and 98 to 22.

Will Regret Action

Capt. Oliver Lathrop, sponsor of the second amendment to curb government price control said after the defeat of his measure.

"There will be many members supporting the government who will regret this decision," he said.

Congress Is Urged To Retain Law For Government Seizure

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(INS)—The labor department urged congress today to retain the law giving the federal government power to seize and operate plants which have been tied up by labor disputes.

Assistant Secretary of Labor Daniel W. Tracy made this plea before the House military committee which is holding hearings on proposal to repeal the Smith-Connally anti-strike law.

Tracy admitted that the provision calling for a 30-day "cooling off" period before a strike is called is unworkable.

"Although this law is on the books and was intended to reduce labor disputes," Tracy told the committee, "it is having no such effect. In fact, the information I have received indicates that section eight

(the strike notice provision) of the law serves to increase friction between management and labor."

The so-called "cooling off" period of 30 days frequently becomes the white heat point of the dispute.

Should Be Retained
With regard to the seizure provisions, Tracy told the committee that they "should be retained for the time being since they may prove useful in the event of emergency."

Tracy assured the congressional committee that the secretary of labor fully recognizes that this power is to be used sparingly, if at all.

Meat Rationing Will Continue Says Anderson

Secretary Of Agriculture Says Rationing Stays Rest Of Year At Least

LATER ACTION TO DEPEND ON SUPPLY (BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(INS)—Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson said today after a cabinet meeting at the White House that rationing of meat will continue through the present year.

He said that after the last of the year the situation will be reviewed and the decision on continued rationing will depend on the meat supply at that time.

Continued rationing of meats is required because of the unstable situation, the secretary disclosed. He said that meat producers are inclined to hold back much of their stock in the hope that rationing might end and price ceilings may be lifted.

Anderson had a news conference that there may be some adjustments in red point ration values next month, he added—that meat deliveries will be cut.

"The decision to continue red point rationing in November was made not because of scarcity in local slaughtering but because we have definite foreign commitments to meet," the secretary explained.

The second quarter of 1946 is our toughest problem and we want to be in shape to meet our commitments.

The secretary said he still hopes that all 1946 subsidies will be terminated by June 30, 1946.

He said that the United States meat commitments are scheduled for the Dutch, Belgian, British and French.

State Department Reveals That Revolt Has Broken Out

MEAGRE DETAILS ARE RECEIVED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(INS)—The state department revealed today that a revolt has broken out in Venezuela.

A formal statement issued on reports reaching Washington said that all constitutional guarantees had been suspended, freedom of the press had been suspended, and the state department's statement said.

Venezuela suspended constitutional guarantees last evening following a revolt at the government at San Carlos, barracks, yesterday afternoon. At 4:00 o'clock, there was intermittent firing at the barracks.

The rebels were reported to have possession of the president's place at Miraflores. It was also reported that the rebel mission has been given an ultimatum and that troops loyal to the government were ready to march against the barracks.

"Heavy firing was reported shortly after midnight."

The statement said it could not be ascertained on the basis of present information.

However, the dispatches were believed correct with an impending presidential election.

Strike Closes Power Plants

LANSING, Mich., Oct. 19.—(INS)—The strike of 2,400 Consumers Power company employees closed central steam generating plants in Battle Creek, Jackson and Saginaw today, leaving hotels, stores and office buildings without heat or hot water.

Otherwise, electric light and power and gas service continued without interruption throughout the 25,000-square mile Michigan area served by the company.

Gov. Harry F. Kelly conferred with leaders of the striking CIO Utility Workers Council after serving the union that power service must continue. He also talked with John W. Gibson, assistant to Labor Secretary Lewis B. Schaeffgenbach, whom he recalled from Washington, calling him "a man of very similar manifestation, and if it is not the only reason then we are left with a bankrupt, nauseating idea of controls for control's sake."

The first amendment put forth by the conservatives was defeated, 212 to 83.

The five-year program was attacked by the Recorder, weekly conservative organ, as "subjugation of the United States by 'Bureaucracy'."

"Under this bill," the Recorder said, "the government can command the services, property and wealth of any citizen in the country. It can enter into competition with industry and dictate the price at which industry must sell its products. It can take over business if it dislikes the looks of political complexion of the directors."

And since the life of the measure will be five years after it has been placed on the statute book, it will still be law when the next general election is fought," the Recorder pointed out.

"The whole of this part and parcel of an attempt to stifle parliamentary discussion of vital matters. Sir David Maxwell, conservative, said that the only reason he could see for the controls the government demanded was to discriminate against private enterprise.

with them when they come to conference, because they'll be there a long time."

Knutson referred to the inevitable house-senate conference to work out disagreements between the two bodies on differing provisions of the legislation.

Changes Made

To date, after one full day of closed-door sessions on the bill, the finance committee headed by Sen. George (D) Ga. had:

1. Repealed the corporation excess profits tax entirely, effective Jan. 1, 1946, for a total tax cut of two billion 555 million dollars.

2. Dropped 12 million low-income taxpayers from the rolls next year by reducing individual surtax rates three percentage points, and applying surtax personal exemptions on the normal tax. This added an estimated two billion 85 million dollars to the 1946 tax loss.

3. Repealed the auto and boat "use" tax for an additional "saving" of 140 million dollars to taxpayers. Other excises were still open.

4. Restored the four percentage points to corporate surtax rates removed by the house, but decided to give "preferential" treatment to corporations with incomes up to $100,000. The four-point house cut would have meant a revenue loss of 400 million dollars.

5. Approved the house "freeze" of the old age-survivors social security payroll tax for another year.

6. Agreed to carry over for 1946 the unused corporation excess profit credit. No accurate estimate was given on this because the committee had yet to decide upon certain restrictions to be written into its report on the carry-over provision.

They have been thinking along the line of universal training which would be integrated with the existing high school and university educational system, such as an expanded reserve officers training camp. Along with this would be a strengthened national guard program and more intensive summer camp training for youths under the two peacetime arms of military training.

Concessions Granted
The short-lived civilian cabinet granted democratic concessions by President Edelmo Farrell gave way to friends of Peron, while the strong man himself was reportedly vacationing in southern Argentina where he will prepare his presidential campaign.

The nation-wide 24-hour strike, culminating in anti-Semitic assaults on banks and other properties and mass arrests of anti-government personalities, left little doubt that Peron, steep from office last week in a democratic coup, had regained control of the country.

The strike, called by the general federation of labor "to demonstrate the thoughts of the working class," paralyzed virtually all activities throughout the nation, with transportation and business operations at a standstill in all principal cities.

Bands of workers shouting "Viva Peron!" roamed Buenos Aires streets early today following an armed assault on the liberal newspaper Critica in which two persons were killed and 28 injured before some 60 of the newspaper's employees were arrested.

Prominent Argentines sought refuge in foreign embassies as police rounded up students and government leaders in a new wave of arrests similar to that which preceded Peron's ouster as vice president, war minister and labor secretary.

Meanwhile President Farrell, swore Peron's friends into office yesterday.

Another evidence of the vagaries of the season is a pear tree on the property of Earl Weitz, 311 Winter Avenue. Mr. Weitz has picked one crop of pears and there is another crop of fair size on the tree. The explanation is that part of the pear blossoms were destroyed by the early spring frost. The ones not destroyed went on to develop into good pears, but Nature decided to replace those destroyed with a new crop and these are now almost ripe.

WASHINGTON CALLING

Sharing Secret Of Atomic Bomb

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—The scientist is speaking. He is speaking in the calm, dispassionate voice of one who knows.

The scientist asks if the atomic bomb can be kept a secret. The scientific replies.

The discussion about secrecy is largely an academic discussion. You cannot keep the nature of the world a secret. You cannot keep atoms a secret. They exist in every corner.

If anyone can speak with a straight face, it is Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer, who from the beginning of the project, has had as much to do with the making of the atomic bomb as any single individual. More than any other man, he knows what the bomb is and what it can do.

Testifying before Senator Kilgore's subcommittee, Oppenheimer said that there can never be any effective counter measure for the kind of bomb he helped to make in the Los Alamos laboratory. There is no way to detonate them in advance except by shooting down the shell containing the explosive, and a 100 per cent score is all but impossible.

Could Kill Millions
He replied affirmatively when Senator Fulbright asked him if it was not conceivable that 40,000,000 Americans might be killed overnight in the crowded cities of the eastern seaboard. Soon, he added, the atomic explosive shell will be adapted to weapons such as the V-2 rocket, which travels faster than sound.

There is no longer any excuse for self-deception. A man who KNOWS has spoken.

As Oppenheimer made perfectly clear, the terrible danger is a race between the nations for more and more deadly atomic weapons. He pointed out that one of Britain's chief scientists said recently that if America persists in an attitude of secrecy, then the only chance for Britain is to start building an atomic bomb factory.

Perhaps that race is inevitable. Perhaps the doom of this unhappy species is sealed in any event. But defeat cannot be accepted without a struggle.

It is here that opinion seems to have gone off the track. Letters that come to the editor say: "You don't think that if Russia had the secret of the atomic bomb they would share it with us, do you?"

Question Irrelevant
The answer may be no. But for the moment the question is irrelevant, since we must make every effort to get our bargaining power to get the secret. That was the point of the article. We must have an exchange of information on atomic energy and nuclear physics, and an exchange of scientists.

It may not work. The suspicion of the Russians may be too dark. It may be impracticable. Possibly they are already committed to an atomic race.

We will have the moral satisfaction of knowing, however, that we made the attempt. We will be able to say before the world that we did everything humanly possible to break down the barriers. If our offer is rejected, then the blame will rest elsewhere.

Our position today is intolerable. Men in high positions talk about keeping the secret. That was the net effect of President Truman's impromptu remarks in Tennessee, although he may not have intended such a result.

British Embarrassed
This has ramifications not visible on the surface. Because they share the so-called secret with us, the British have been not a little embarrassed in their relations with the Russians. The reason is a clause in the British-Soviet treaty which says that Britain will share with the Soviet all military and technical information.

And as Dr. Oppenheimer said, the time is so very short. The atomic bomb gave us a very momentary strengthening of our military position. For the time being, it has weakened our military position and this, as Oppenheimer explained it, is why.

We are peace-loving people. We would not be likely to launch a secret atomic attack on another nation that had shown no overt signs of making war on us. But more aggressive people, if the atomic secret is once finally joined, may not be so constrained.

Summing up Oppenheimer's testimony, Senator Fulbright said: "We have everything to gain, then, and nothing to lose by sharing the information we have." If we can learn that in the little time that is left, then we may still hope for a future.

"We're giving your wife artificial respiration," pointed one of the guards.

"Artificial respiration?" The very idea. There's to be nothing artificial around here. You give her the genuine—I can afford it.

Grandpa Jenkins' two favorite football teams, Sackham and East Bicycle, were again practicing for their annual Thanksgiving Day clash. Why no one will ever know.

The teams are different this year. They used to be pretty bad. Now they are worse.

Sackham Center has no system of offense or defense, no point, no broken field, no punt, no pass, no kick.

However, the last named should cause them little concern. Unless there is rapid improvement at the rate this it is a receiver, appointed by the coach.

East Bicycle is in even worse shape. The boys don't even have uniforms.

To date East Bicycle's best play is a recovered fumble.

Grandpa Jenkins says he has never seen two teams as evenly matched. He expects the game to wind up in a nothing-to-lose tie since both clubs are strictly zero in everything but ambition.

WHEN GIRL VISITS MAN'S HOME TOWN

I am in love with a girl who lives about one hundred miles from my home. We are not yet engaged, but have been going for only two months. During that time I have been going to see her, staying at her home. Since I should like her to meet my friends here, would it be all right for her to come here occasionally staying at a hotel for a week-end? It is now much of my expenses (hotel, meals and train fare) should I assume? We are both in our late twenties.

Answer: Of course it is in man's place always to pursue woman. So you should especially drink up the love of your courtship go to see her in her own home and expect her to come here to visit, risking the possibility of her friends and yours accusing her of "running after you."

When your love affair is on a permanent basis there is no reason why she should not come here to visit you and meet your family and friends.

If you wish your parents or possibly with a married sister who might be comfortable and "protected from gossip," invite her to stay in your home. If you have no suitable home in which to entertain her and since you are both of a reasonable age, you may arrange for her to stay at a hotel, you assuming all of her expenses, including railroad fare.

The Parent Problem

By GARY C. MYERS, Ph. D.

HELPING THE POOR SPELLER

Some children are slow at learning anything from books. Then some other children are slow only in a certain subject like spelling. An occasional child excelling at reading and arithmetic in the fourth grade can barely spell at all. Perhaps his parents have imposed on him from that way down his Uncle Mike never could spell, even the teacher might encourage the parents in the supposition. It is a very satisfying belief relieving parents and teachers of their responsibility when they could put the blame on Uncle Mike.

Average Child

There is no conclusive scientific evidence that a child average or above in several of the basic school subjects cannot learn to spell easily well. Don't tell him he should be a matter of time. Just point to him he can and set the stage for it. Of course, poor school of instruction might prove a more serious handicap in spelling than the other subject.

Any child who catches on to spelling very slowly should have his sight and hearing tested and the necessary corrections made when possible. If letters make about and run together as the child tries to name them and sounds of the words are available, they are pronounced as indistinctly, he may be seriously handicapped in spelling.

Constructive Ways

1. Find out if the child is acquainted with every letter of the alphabet wherever he sees it. If he is not, don't rebuke or shame him. Patiently explain him to pick out one of these letters in a word from numerous words on the page. Do this if he can find one letter, say letters a, b and c, p and q. A good rule for helping a child learn any such confusion is to have him practice on just one of the letters of the page which are confused in his mind before using the other letters.

2. If the child does not seem to learn, having him say a word of sound like "chap" which is in order to get the sound he is learning. First have him spell each word of one syllable before attempting words of two and so on.

3. The main thing in learning to spell a word is to look at the word carefully, pronounce it, name the letters in their order and look at the word in the word. To do this and not to try to spell it, can make any word very easy to learn and to look back at the word and find out when you have the right word, in short, never to make a mistake.

The poor speller tries himself out too soon. He may even spell the word wrong while making the first try. He is always too much in a hurry.

4. Let the first word of a list be completely mastered before a second is attempted. It is wasteful practice to study one word more than the next one and so on. Master one word at a time. Moreover, it is better for a child to master four or five words in an evening than to master over 10 in a matter of many days.

The design of all bills above $20 will be changed January 1. The present issue must be turned in before that date or the world will be flooded with black marketeers.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Once again science has discovered a wonderful new drug. This time it is something which is supposed to be extremely beneficial in arthritis, and thousands and thousands of arthritis sufferers will read about the new discovery will find new hope in it.

Thousands will be cured, and thousands will have their lives shortened and continue to suffer.

I have the deepest respect for science and the wonderful work it is doing. Without it we would be living in the dark ages and we owe much to the wonderful work the chemists and physicists, pharmacists and engineers are doing.

But the trouble is that every time something new comes along we are made to believe that it is a miracle.

When the miracle drugs came out, everybody thought that here was the end of pain and disease.

These drugs did a lot of good, the hospitals and the doctors' offices are still filled to overflowing and the drug stores are doing a land-office business in all kinds of ointments and pills and tablets and capsules.

Then came penicillin. Now everybody is saying: "Here it is! The miracle drug has arrived!"

Well, one recently I sent my wife to the hospital. She had been suffering from sinus trouble for years, and had tried every known remedy, including an operation, sprays and what not.

Penicillin would surely cure her. Five days in the hospital with a penicillin injection every three hours, and yet she still has trouble. It is not so easy.

Not that penicillin is not a wonderful discovery. No, that's not the trouble. The trouble is that the doctors and the hospitals are still filled to overflowing and the drug stores are doing a land-office business in all kinds of ointments and pills and tablets and capsules.

Take my own case. I used to have an earache every three or four days. I tried every kind of medicine, every kind of operation, every kind of treatment, and yet it was not cured. For four years now I have been taking penicillin every day, and yet it has not cured me. I have to have a surgery. I have to have a surgery.

And yet I recommended these pills to a friend of mine. He took the whole series, faithfully and in full faith. But right this minute he is in bed with a fever of 100, and he says it won't turn into anything.

So, as you know, there will be many more discoveries in medicine and in every field of science. But let us not forget that bacteria, cancer, pneumonia and that sort of thing are people there will be untold suffering.

Although it is generally assumed that a major factor in Germany's defeat was the extent of her military armament, it is not so simple. It is a complex of many factors, and the role of the military is not so simple.

The Lend-Lease program, a "cash-for-goods" program, was a major factor in Germany's defeat. The Lend-Lease program was a major factor in Germany's defeat.

Germany's military machine, the Luftwaffe, the Panzer Army, and the modernized transport, was on all fronts. In the Western front, it was a matter of fact, the supplies not only failed to decrease, but were augmented by troops in captured territory. By the end of 1943, the Nazis had an oil supply of one hundred thirteen million barrels a year. While this continued, they made progress. But sometimes happened. Allied air forces concentrated on oil targets.

The Lamp cites a great chemical plant which had stored five million gallons of synthetic kerosene a year. As a result of frozen thousands of Allied bombs its production levelled off to zero. That was only a sample. Phosphi, Baux, Potash, Bismuth, and a score of other names were entered on the list of oil targets. Over and over the rain of bombs was reported. Petroleum there was not enough of even to train an army. Artillery had to be pushed by hand. Soldiers lacking ammunition to the front. How many vehicles brought in to the front.

By April 1944, the oil situation had reached a crisis for the Nazis. They put up their last desperate resistance in a vain effort to defend their plants in the Balkans and the synthetic factories in Saxony and the Ruhr. But they could not acquire enough of the vital fuel to make an effective defense, much less a counter-offensive. The inevitable happened, when German bombers and airplanes could render aid to land troops. The nation which made its easy entry into the war, as its basis of military might in the end found itself strangled for want of oil.

It may be that with rockets and atomic bombs and jet planes, the wars will be less dependent on oil. But it will not be a free and easy and modern transport. Plenty of oil in reserve or in the ground is likely to be a real military asset for some time to come.

Hemorrhoids is a word hard to spell. It means bleeding.

Wherever blood is found where it should not be, there should be an investigation.

If a person coughs and a trace of blood appears, it may mean disease. Better see about it.

Any bleeding in a person over 40 should attract attention. It may be very slight but should not be neglected.

One of the signs of cancer is a persistent blood in stool. It means trouble and it may prevent serious trouble.

Proctitis, inflammation of the rectum, may be cured by rest and diet.

Carriers as transports
Use of an artificial carrier, as from transport, to shed the flow of blood from the rectum, is a common method of synthetic carriage.

As a result of frozen thousands of Allied bombs its production levelled off to zero. That was only a sample. Phosphi, Baux, Potash, Bismuth, and a score of other names were entered on the list of oil targets. Over and over the rain of bombs was reported. Petroleum there was not enough of even to train an army. Artillery had to be pushed by hand. Soldiers lacking ammunition to the front. How many vehicles brought in to the front.

By April 1944, the oil situation had reached a crisis for the Nazis. They put up their last desperate resistance in a vain effort to defend their plants in the Balkans and the synthetic factories in Saxony and the Ruhr. But they could not acquire enough of the vital fuel to make an effective defense, much less a counter-offensive. The inevitable happened, when German bombers and airplanes could render aid to land troops. The nation which made its easy entry into the war, as its basis of military might in the end found itself strangled for want of oil.

It may be that with rockets and atomic bombs and jet planes, the wars will be less dependent on oil. But it will not be a free and easy and modern transport. Plenty of oil in reserve or in the ground is likely to be a real military asset for some time to come.

Post-War Road Program Awaits Men, Materials

HARRISBURG, Oct. 19.—Secretary John U. Shriver said today the Department of Highways' $500,000,000 Post-War Highway Improvement Program will be inaugurated as soon as men and material are available in sufficient quantity.

In order to expedite the Department's further preparation of the $500,000,000 program—$100,000,000 of which is earmarked to be spent each year for the next five years—the secretary has instructed district engineers to draft a priority list of the most important projects in their respective countries, thereby establishing a program of "first things first" according to traffic demands.

The program—which each year will spend $10,000,000 for right-of-way costs, $10,000,000 for Department of Highways construction and reconstruction, and stabilization of the maintenance organization throughout the year and $80,000,000 for concrete construction—is designed to eliminate bottlenecks and traffic hazards, such as narrow bridges, sharp curves, dangerous underpasses. To repair and improve the condition of miles of highways where "patches" were resorted to because of restrictions on materials. Patched highways are short-lived improvements and very soon will constitute additional traffic hazards.

"It's a large program, and few people realize the magnitude of it," Shriver said. "It is comprehensive in detail and the chosen restoration of highways did not find us unprepared for the job ahead. However, as soon as the Department forces are augmented to the point where the work can be started, and vital materials such as steel and lumber can be delivered, just that soon will be ready to go ahead one hundred per cent."

Naturally we are counting on many servicemen being returned to their former jobs in the Department and it is some of that personnel upon whom we are depending, together with other workers released from war plants.

"I know from my inspection tours throughout the State that every section of Pennsylvania can stand some highway improvements in one way or another. The people have been patient and have not complained when those improvements were not immediately forthcoming. We're going to reward that patience—now with expensive monumental structures which would benefit a few, but with reconstruction in all places where improvement is necessary, and with structures adequate to meet the present and future traffic requirements."

The town of Gloucester, Mass., was permanently settled about 1633, and a town charter was granted in 1642.

Key Factories May Be Forced Underground

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(INS)—The house military affairs committee was told Thursday that the atomic energy act might force the United States to "relocate" 30 to 60 million of its population and build key atomic factories and laboratories underground.

At resumed hearings on legislation dealing with atomic energy, Dr. Leo Szilard, Hungarian physicist who played a key role in the development of the atom bomb, declared:

"There is no defense against the atom bomb. Perhaps vulnerability would be much less if we relocated 30 to 60 million of the population. We might have to do that unless the international situation improves."

Underground Factories. Szilard added that "key factories" should be placed underground because "a defense in the ordinary sense I do not believe exists."

Szilard and Dr. H. L. Anderson, scientist at the Los Alamos laboratory of the atom project, expressed their disapproval of legislation before the committee because of the broad powers granted to the project commission—particularly the disciplinary power to fine, imprison or discharge scientists who they deem have revealed secrets of atomic energy development.

Anderson read a statement from the "Association of Oak Ridge Scientists at Clinton Laboratory" which expressed opposition to the bill.

Both of the scientist witnesses at today's hearing declared it would be better for the army to conduct atomic development along present lines until congress has had time to hold extensive hearings and pass a "good" bill.

They declared that penalties contained in the proposed legislation would be ineffective in stopping "leak" of information, but would serve to discourage young scientists from entering the atom field.

While the report is somewhat optimistic, motorists must realize that care of their present tires is essential until tires become available to the public in sufficient quantities," Maxwell said.

Maxwell urged motorists to drive carefully because many of the machines on the road were equipped with tires weakened by heavy use during the war.

"The tire situation is, for the time being at least, on an even keel," the report stated.

"If things continue as of today," it was predicted, "we can expect 12,000,000 passenger car tires to be produced in the fourth quarter of this year."

The report added that 16,000,000 tires had been produced during nine months of 1945.

"Assuming that the production schedule for the last three months is realized, this would give us 28,000,000 tires for the year," the report continued.

"With this goal in sight, we could reasonably expect two things: (A) An increase in the monthly ration in November—it is now 2,500,000; and (B) the end of tire rationing by January 1.

There is one thing, however, to bear in mind. The end of rationing will not mean that the tire situation will be easy. Even with the production of 67,000,000 scheduled for 1956, the motoring public will not be able to get all the tires it wants.

Warns Motorists To Conserve Tires

Despite Possible Early Ending Of Rationing, Tires Must Be Preserved To Utmost

HARRISBURG, Oct. 19.—(INS)—Motorists were advised today by the Pennsylvania Motor Federation to conserve tires despite predictions that rationing may end January 1.

R. M. Maxwell, federation manager, based his warning on a report of the PMF's parent organization, the American Automobile association. He indicated the shortage would continue during the next 15 months. Sixty seven million tires were scheduled to be produced in 1946, he reported.

While the report is somewhat optimistic, motorists must realize that care of their present tires is essential until tires become available to the public in sufficient quantities," Maxwell said.

Maxwell urged motorists to drive carefully because many of the machines on the road were equipped with tires weakened by heavy use during the war.

Capt. Wiedemann
May Be Witness

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(INS)—Publication of the allies indictment of 24 leading Nazi war criminals led to the belief that Capt. Fritz Wiedemann, Adolf Hitler's former adjutant, will be a prosecution witness.

Captured at Tientsin when Japan surrendered, the former Nazi envoy to Tokyo was sped back through the United States to Nuremberg. He was not named as a defendant. Wiedemann is probably better informed on the machinations which led to the rise of the Nazi hierarchy than most of those in allied hands and not under indictment.

Charge Nazis Plundered Art Work Of Nation

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(INS)—Twenty-four top-ranking accused Nazi war criminals were charged in Allied indictments of plundering nearly 22 thousand precious works of art, including priceless Raphaels and Van Dykes.

The Germans also were accused before international military tribunal of America, France, Great Britain, Northern Ireland and Russia of wrecking graves of revered artists.

Plundered Art

In their power-mad drive for German supremacy even in the aesthetic world, the Nazis plundered 21,903 art treasures of enormous value from France, Belgium, Holland, Norway, Italy and Luxembourg in the years 1940-44.

The indictments charged that many compelled France to deliver "The Mystic Lamb" by Van Eyck which Belgium had entrusted to her. But the Germans "approached monuments of culture, dear to the Soviet people with special hatred," the Allied Nations said, exclaiming:

"They destroyed the estate and museum of Leo Tolstoy and Yasnaya Polyana, desecrating the grave of the great writer. They destroyed in Klim the museum of Tsolkovsky and in Penaty the museum of the Painter Repin and many others."

Desecrate Monuments

The indictments charged further that the Nazis "broke up, desecrated and senselessly destroyed the most valuable monuments of the Christian church, such as Kiev-Pecherskaya Lavra, Novy Jerusalem in the Istra region, and the most ancient monasteries and churches."

Too, the defendants were on record for having plundered libraries, laboratories, and art museums of books, pictures, objects of art, scientific apparatus and furniture following Nazi occupation of Czechoslovakia in March, 1939.

Destruction of 1,670 Greek Orthodox churches, 237 Roman Catholic churches, 67 synagogues, 332 Synagogues also comprised activities of the culture-shattering enemies, the indictment said.

Seizure and wanton destruction of timeless masterpieces were said to have been accomplished in part by forcing owners of property to go through the forms of "voluntary" and legal transfers.

Survey To Be Made On Distribution Of Fuel Tax In State

HARRISBURG, Oct. 19.—Groundwork was being laid today for the adoption of a "non-political and non-partisan" method of distributing liquid fuels tax revenues among Pennsylvania municipalities.

The Joint State Government commission's highways committee laid plans for a statewide survey which was expected to result in the adoption of a revised allocations program by the 1947 legislature.

Sen. John G. Snowden, D., Lehigh, committee chairman, said distribution of funds to political subdivisions under the new system would be based on their respective expenditures for road work.

Gathering of initial data on relative highway costs throughout the state will be handled by the committee, with the help of state departmental engineers.

This information, to be compiled by May 1, will be turned over to the Brookings Institute, a national research agency in Washington, to be analyzed. The institute will recommend an "equitable" allocations system.

When the Brookings report is submitted to the commission, Snowden said, it will be turned over to two other nationally recognized agencies for review before final recommendations are drafted for submission to the legislature.

We will do this so no one can say that the distribution recommended is partial or political, Snowden emphasized.

Water Pollution May Spread Disease

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—The Illinois division of the Izaak Walton League of America launched a nationwide drive against sewage pollution which some medical authorities hold as a probable cause of the spread of infantile paralysis.

The Illinois group decided on the spot after Dr. Edward A. Pizzek, Cook county's (Chicago) public health director, told the delegates evidence had been found "to show that the virus of infantile paralysis can be abundantly spread in polluted water by improper disposal of human sewage."

A resolution adopted at a meeting of the Illinois division pledged the state body to a campaign "to rally the nationwide membership and facilities of the league to a joint effort with the national foundation for infantile paralysis to bring about a speedy abatement of sewage pollution."

Now they are talking about the super-atom bomb. The man at the next desk, who has a tendency to be nervous, anyway, thinks it high time they changed the subject.

Shortage Of Farm Labor More Acute

HARRISBURG, Oct. 19.—Shortage of farm labor in Pennsylvania appears to be more acute than ever, the State Department of Agriculture warned in the Federal-State general crop survey as of October 1. During the latter part of September seriously retarded harvest operations and the planting of winter grains. Most extensive damage came through a 650,000-bushel drop in the estimated production of commercial apples through a combination of weather conditions, and a reduction of 500 tons in grape production, the department report said. After each rain fewer apples were left on trees but some of the estimated $2,000,000 loss was salvaged from drops.

On the whole, September weather permitted Pennsylvania field crops to develop about as anticipated. Corn, tobacco and cabbage generally benefited from rains 3 inches above normal, but some buckwheat, potatoes and tomatoes suffered from excess moisture. Wells, springs and streams in western counties, which had been quite low, were replenished.

There were no killing frosts during the month except in some localities in northern counties, but below freezing temperatures on the morning of October 4 killed tender vegetation over most of the state. Temperatures during September averaged 2 degrees above normal.

Corn growth was favored the fore part of September but lack of sunshine and warmth during the last two weeks delayed ripening in all areas. By October 1 not much corn had been husked in any section. Yields were reported very good. Averaging 44 bushels to the acre compared with 38 last year and 41 for the 10-year average, 1934-43. Production of 60,192,000 bushels is about 6 1/2 million over 1944 and 6 million better than average. This record has been achieved in spite of a 3 per cent reduction in state acreage from last year.

Buckwheat fields on an acreage that is 15 per cent below that of 1944 are reported good, and production of 2,400,000 bushels is better than average. While some oats required sprouting and rotting in field, production estimates for all small grains remained the same for September 1.

HARRISBURG.—Their collective aim must have been rather bad because three boys between 11 and 14 years of age were taken into custody by police insisted they were shooting at squirrels with bows and steel-tipped arrows but home-owners reported damages to houses.

Carnegie Gas Co. Seeks Higher Rate

HARRISBURG, Oct. 19.—(INS)—Increased rates for customers of the Carnegie Natural Gas company in southwestern Pennsylvania were in prospect today under a supplemental tariff the firm has asked the Public Utility Commission to approve.

The company proposed an increase of 15 cents a 1000 cubic feet and a revised schedule of discounts. Customers currently pay 37 cents a 1000 cubic feet for gas. The minimum meter rate would be increased from 50 cents to $1.

The company services 2383 consumers in Allegheny, Armstrong, Greene and Washington counties.

Fall Outlook Is Good From Babson's Viewpoint

By ROGER W. BABSON

(Copyright 1945, Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.)

NEW YORK, N. Y., Oct. 19.—I am sure that the newspapers have much more grief than the situation warrants. Naturally the thinking people are upset by the strike stories, but these strikes may be more psychological coming as a reaction from the war rather than merely economic. The plants that I have visited show good progress toward recovery.

BABSON

The voters have more confidence in their congress and president than they have had for a long time. The situation looks good.

Thirteen Forecasts.
General Business: Good as long as the people's money holds out—which should be for two or three years. Certainly, there is nothing to worry about.

Labor Demands: Raises of from 10 to 15 per cent in basic wages with possibly a 35-hour week in certain industries which now have an overtime pay. Certainly, retailers should favor this.

Employment: If women return to their homes and those over 65 cease work, and all under 18 go back to school, there need be no unemployment.

Agriculture: Nineteen forty-five and 1946 should be good years for farmers; but after this both demand for agricultural products and the prices thereof will decline.

New Buildings: If prices are held in line, there should be a great boom in new building, especially in the suburban areas.

Retail Sales: These will continue high with a record-breaking Christmas.

one now can foretell what these results will be. If we then have 10,000,000 unemployed and other countries have none, the United States is headed for a social revolution. But nothing now indicates that this unequal condition will then exist. Both Communism and Socialism are now in test tubes. No one knows whether either will succeed. Besides, the new atomic energy may develop a great new industry and save the situation.

Five Asphyxiated At Bethlehem

Gas Leak In Furnace Pit Of Plant Blamed; Five More In Critical Condition

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Oct. 19.—(INS)—A gas leak in a furnace pit was blamed today for the death of five men in the Bethlehem Steel company's giant Lehigh plant at Bethlehem.

Four other men were reported in critical condition, and at least 30 others were overcome by the fumes, police said.

County Coroner David F. Bachman identified the dead as:

Joseph McGoldrick, a foreman, of Hellertown; Harold Snyder, of Bethlehem; a station foreman, an ammel; Michael Straka, Bethlehem; and Edward H. Rasmussen, Phillipsburg, N. J., a burner.

Dr. Bachman said workmen first detected gas seeping from the main at 3 p. m. yesterday. The five men who were asphyxiated apparently descended into the pit to seek the source of the leak, Bachman said.

The critically ill workers were pulled at the entrance to the pit. Bachman reported while the others affected were working in other parts of the plant.

Those in critical condition were identified as Charles Conka, Charles Kleckner and Lloyd Landis, all of Bethlehem, and Thomas Beitel of Northampton.

Secretary Of War Urges Congress To Boost Research

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(INS)—Secretary of War Patterson urged Congress on Monday to marshal the nation's scientific knowledge under a research organization, because a country that "lives in the laboratory" probably would not survive another war.

Patterson joined Dr. Vannevar Bush, America's scientific chief in World War II, in endorsing creation of a national research foundation.

He proposed that at least four War Department representatives be made members of any advisory committee created in the program—two from the army, navy, navy, and navy.

Dr. Bush warned that the United States cannot meet its defense needs in trained scientists before 1955.

"A nation that lags in the laboratory will not only have no chance of victory in a future war, but it is extremely unlikely that it will survive at all, so terrible are their consequences are the weapons we can foresee even in the light of our present knowledge," Patterson said.

Says Puerto Rico Does Not Desire Its Independence

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(INS)—Martin Trías, chief justice of the Puerto Rican Supreme Court, said today after a White House conference with President Truman that he does not favor Puerto Rican independence.

The chief justice said he feels it is economically impossible for the island, with its extreme density of population and limited land, to exist as an independent entity.

He said, however, he hoped that the island ultimately can attain equality with the rest of the American nation through statehood.

Meantime, he said, he would like to see Puerto Rico given the privilege of electing its own governor.

The chief justice was in Washington on business as head of the war loan drive in Puerto Rico and said he would return by plane to Puerto Rico Sunday, where he will preside at the new session of the supreme court.

Recovery Of Missing Letter Clears Mystery

Letter Written By Late President Roosevelt To King Ibn-Saud Is Located

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(INS)—One of the mysteries of President Truman's inherited office was cleared up today with the publication of a missing letter the late President Roosevelt had written to King Ibn-Saud, powerful ruler of Saudi Arabia, on Palestine.

The letter itself was depended on to allay Arab concern over American policy in the enigmatic middle east where the Palestine question has aroused intense concern.

Written On April 5

The letter was written by Mr. Roosevelt on April 5, just one week before he died suddenly at Warm Springs. It affirmed a previously given oral pledge to Ibn-Saud that the basic policy in Palestine would not be changed without consultation first with both Arabs and Jews.

Ibn-Saud himself had claimed that the pledge had been given by Mr. Roosevelt when he visited the chief executive after the Yalta conference. Mr. Truman then flew to the office, said at the time that he had searched the Roosevelt files and had been unable to find anything on the subject.

When the letter was found it was in the state department files. All Roosevelt records had been removed from the White House, either to allow official filing places or to Hyde Park. This is a practice followed whenever a president leaves office.

Asks For 100,000 Admissions

Publication of the correspondence followed a revelation by Mr. Truman that he had asked British Prime Minister Clement Attlee, to admit 100,000 Jewish victims of Nazi persecution to Palestine. Attlee was said to have responded with a counter proposal for a little more than 18,000 monthly.

The matter is still under discussion and an early settlement was expected.

Secretary of State James F. Byrnes in revealing the missing Roosevelt letter, made clear that the policy there enunciated on the Palestine question will continue to prevail.

Ibn-Saud's letter, made public through the Syrian legation, said that the formation of a Jewish state in Palestine would be a "deadly blow to the Arabs and constitute a constant threat to peace."

Roosevelt's Reply

In reply Mr. Roosevelt said: "I am gratified that your majesty took this occasion to bring your views on this question to my attention and I have given the most careful attention to the statements which you made in your letter."

Your majesty will recall that on previous occasions I communicated to you the attitude of the American government toward Palestine and made clear our desire that no decision be taken with respect to the basic situation without full consultation with both Arabs and Jews.

Your majesty will also doubtless recall that during our recent conversation I assured you that I would take no action in my capacity as chief of the executive branch of this government, which might prove hostile to the Arab people."

NO MORE MESSY CHOCOLATE BARS

BOSTON.—(INS)—Chocolate candy that won't melt in 100-degree temperatures for two days is in the candy industry's past year plans. President Philip P. Gould of the National Confectioners Association announced at a New England candy makers convention that the chocolate was perfected during the war so that servicemen in the tropics might have their chocolate unspoiled.

Bell Telephone Catching Up With Backlog Of Orders

Vice President J. Frank Cox Points Out Part Company Played In Winning The War

Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania has begun a large state-wide construction and installation program designed to eliminate, as quickly as possible, the "waiting lists" of applications for telephone service which could not be filled because of war-induced shortages. J. Frank Cox, vice president and general manager, said here Thursday.

He spoke at the annual "get-together" of approximately 950 telephone employees and members of their families in the New Castle-Schenley-Rose Cathedral. Men, women and children from this vicinity attended. U. G. Hodan, district traffic superintendent, was chairman.

Mr. Cox pointed out that three different kinds of telephone facilities are required to furnish service. They are telephone instruments, cable or wire to connect telephones to the central office, and central office switching equipment such as switchboards and associated apparatus.

Shortage of telephone instruments has been one of the principal reasons for the large waiting lists, he said. But, fortunately, this situation is being relieved very rapidly.

Bell's Part in War

Discussing the part played by the Bell system during the war, Mr. Cox said a total of 3,000,000 new telephones were installed, including more than half a million for the Army, Navy and other federal war agencies. Bell companies also handled 350,000,000 more toll and long distance calls in 1944 than in 1941, an increase of about 35 per cent. In some localities the increase ranged up to 400 per cent.

More than 23,000 public telephones were established in camps and hospitals for the use of the armed personnel, and more than 550 "telephone centers" have been set up in these locations, with telephone personnel on hand to assist in making calls.

Following Mr. Cox's talk, the meeting concluded with music, dancing and refreshments.

Other telephone officials attending the meeting were Samuel E. Phillips, general commercial manager; David R. Inalls, general plant manager; James V. Walsh, general traffic manager, and John R. MacGregor, chief engineer.

Rehabilitation

Of Philippines Provided In Bill

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(INS.)—Sen. Tydings (D., Md., Senate insular affairs chairman, introduced a far-reaching bill Thursday for rehabilitation of the Philippine islands and announced his committee will open hearings on it next week.

Cabinet Talks On Wage-Price Policy For U. S.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(INS).—A solution to the reconversion wage-price problem which underlines the current wave of industrial strife may develop from discussions today between President Truman and his cabinet.

The President has promised to make an announcement following the important meeting.

With the War Labor Board scheduled to be liquidated by January 1 a new setup to handle both wage and price problems will be discussed at the session. New machinery may be announced by Mr. Truman. In revealing that he would take up the matter with his cabinet, Mr. Truman declined to give any hints. It was believed, however, that he would advance some of the suggestions made by reconversion chief John W. Snyder who will attend the meeting.

Administrations Policy
The chief executive told reporters in his Thursday news conference that Snyder's recommendation that the government hold the line on wages and prices while labor-management discussions are underway, represents the administration's policy.

Snyder has also taken the position that labor must be compensated for some or all of the 23 percent cut in pay envelopes through the loss of wartime overtime. He has warned, however, that labor must not make unreasonable demands.

The main cause of most of the strikes and threatened walkouts has been labor's demand for a 30 percent pay boost to offset overtime losses.

Pressure for a solution to the problem was increased by the approaching shutdown in the automobile industry next week. The auto workers, also demanding a 30 percent pay increase, are scheduled to take strike votes at General Motors October 24, Chrysler October 25 and Ford early next month.

Conference On Power Strike

LANSING, Mich., Oct. 19.—(INS).—Some 2,000,000 customers of the Consumers Power Co. looked to a conference today between Gov. Harry Kelly and striking utility workers to end a walkout that threatens to black out 57 Michigan counties.

The governor called the conference with officials of the Utility Workers Council, CIO, late yesterday after appeals for negotiation with the company failed. Kelly promised that state resources would be used to continue electric service, but failed to indicate what if any steps would be taken.

Six thousand state troops and 400 police were "standing by" at main plants of the company, alerted by the governor. No clashes between troops and pickets were reported anywhere.

Says Veterans Not Compelled To Join Union

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 19.—(INS).—Pennsylvania war veterans today had the assurance of James L. McDevitt, president of the State Federation of Labor, that no ex-serviceman will be compelled against his wishes to join the American Federation of Labor.

Participating in a panel discussion at a Poor Richard club luncheon, McDevitt said the AFL will not compel any veteran to join a union in a closed shop, although he will be asked to join.

McDevitt said the union will create no "embarrassing situations" in determining a veteran's seniority rights. When a veteran with low seniority rights retains a job at the expense of a non-veteran with higher seniority, he said, the AFL will go along with the employer.

PITTSBURGH.—(INS).—Fourteen-year-old Mary Pat Mansmann apparently believes there is a prize in numbers and thus is certain to win a prize in the annual war relief pet show. She entered her griddle buldog and 11 pups.

WAR WIFE WITH TWO MATES

ANOTHER CASE of a war wife who re-wed believing her first husband had been killed in action has been disclosed with the attempted suicide of the wife after the first husband came back alive from the war front. This one is in San Francisco and involves Virgil Earlywine, the "dead" soldier; his wife, Mrs. Claire Earline Burnett, and the second man she married, Chief Petty Officer Robert H. Burnett. Mrs. Burnett took an overdose of sedatives and told police "As long as somebody has to be hurt, it might as well be me. I didn't want to give either one of them up." She will recover. Mrs. Burnett and her first husband are shown above. (International)

LATEST OF LEOPOLD, WIFE

HERE is the latest picture taken of King Leopold of the Belgians, and his commoner wife, the former Miss Marie Baels. The picture was taken at Pregny, Switzerland, where the Belgian monarch has been living as a "king without a country." Anti-Leopold factions and demonstrations in Brussels have urged the king to give up any thoughts of ever returning to the throne. (International)

Alaskan Farmers Conduct 'Milk Run'

ANCHORAGE, Alaska.—(INS).—Dynamite was the key to the Matanuska valley farm project in Alaska back in the depression years of the '30's would be justly proud of the newest venture of that experiment.

A "milk run" from the valley, near Anchorage, delivered 180 quarts of fresh milk and several hundred pounds of fresh vegetables last month to Nome and other northern points, according to an announcement from the Matanuska valley farmers cooperative association.

The project, founded in 1935 with a mass migration of farmers from Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota, is now an established farm country with some 200 families.

Taking advantage of expanded airline service in the territory, the farmers have branched beyond nearby markets and established the northern "milk run" as well as shipping fresh vegetables to the states.

P.A.C. Is Likely To Be Active In Next Campaign

News Notes Of State Capital: See State Police Force Effective—ness In State

HARRISBURG, Oct. 19.—(INS)—The Pennsylvania political action committee, offspring of the CIO, has been quiet during the 1945 campaign, but there were indications it would play a large role in the gubernatorial drive next year. PAC officials have held several meetings at Harrisburg to map plans for the campaign, but leaders have refused comment on the program. During the 1944 presidential election the Pennsylvania PAC, which threw its support behind the Democratic ticket, called upon the 300,000 Pennsylvania Union Council members to "contribute" $1 each to spur "political action." A state law prohibits unions to "pay, lend or give" money for political purposes.

The efficiency of the Pennsylvania state police has been demonstrated again in the arrest of a former state employee in connection with the theft of $12,458.05 from the state treasury at Harrisburg. Within three hours after the robbery occurred, state police detectives apprehended the thief near his home. The money was recovered from a glass container buried in a dump on the outskirts of the capital city.

The State Game Commission has reminded sportsmen that 17A's must not be placed closer than 15 feet from the waterline on any established beaver house. "Trappers are required to keep tags above ice or waterline to facilitate identification without disturbing traps," the commission said. One person may set or operate 10 traps, but residents of other states may not engage in the sport. Pelts must be tagged within 10 days after the end of the season, the commission explained. The 1946 season will run from February 15 to March 1.

John W. Stoker, chief of the landscape division of the Department of Internal Affairs, has reported that 243 municipalities polled during a survey disclosed the ownership of parks or recreation areas totaling 18,988 acres. Writing in "The County Commissioner," organ of the Pennsylvania State Association of County Commissioners, Stoker said a majority of commonwealth cities have fallen short of the minimum acreage required for parks. "It is generally accepted among park, recreation and city planning authorities that there should be a minimum of one acre of municipally-owned and operated park and recreation area within or immediately adjoining the boundaries for each 100 population," Stoker said.

MARSEILLE HAS CRIME RECORD

MARSEILLE, Oct. 19.—American military courts of the Delta Base Section, of which Marseille is headquarters, have issued 9693 sentences since November of last year. According to authorities, only 70 of this number were for acts against the French.

Marseille, which has always had a reputation for being a tough town, is now one big headache for both Americans and French. With thousands of Yanks awaiting repatriation and regiments of Arab soldiers who are stranded in France due to the shipping shortage, a black market flourishes and holdups and other crimes of violence are higher than ever in the city's history.

Concerts have been in use for more than 3600 years.

The definition of a true American as given by Benjamin Franklin was as follows: "A 100 per cent American is one who puts his duty to his country above his selfish desires and who is more anxious that his children and his children's children may live in a country where justice and liberty prevail than he can be any other way." Another name for Benjamin Franklin is Ben Franklin.

Homefront Toll Put At 36,550,000

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—The National Safety Council revealed today that 36,550,000 Americans were killed or injured in accidents on the homefront during the Second World War, almost 36 times the total of battle casualties suffered by U. S. armed forces.

The figures were presented merely to show the enormity of the accident toll at home and to emphasize the importance of preventing accidents—in war or in peace—the council said.

During the war, 17,500,000 Americans were injured and 116,000 killed in their homes, the council said.

COMPLAIN OF BALLOTS

Captain Roger W. Rowland, chairman of the Republican county committee on Wednesday complained to the county commissioner that the ballots had been improperly printed. Captain Rowland drew attention to the fact that the name of candidates who had both nominations was placed in line with the word Democrat with a blank space opposite the name Republican.

Previous ballots were checked and it was found that in cases where a candidate had two or more nominations, a bracket was placed after the name and the name itself between the party names, Democrat and Republican, thus denoting the candidate had both nominations.

County Solicitor William McElwee, Jr., ruled that the ballots were legal and that if they were replaced the commissioners might be liable to recharge. The ballots stand as they are.

WHITE'S MILLINERY—140 E. Washington St.

Marshall Urges Unification Of Armed Forces

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(INS)—Gen. George C. Marshall told congress Thursday the nation should have a single department of the armed forces because "the national security is a single problem" which cannot be met on a piecemeal basis.

The army chief of staff, in what may be one of his last recommendations to congress, bluntly advised the senate military affairs committee that the joint chiefs of staff machinery cannot be effective in peacetime.

"The national security is measured by the sum, or rather the combination of the three great arms—the land, air and naval forces," Marshall testified. "The urgent need is for an overall, not a piecemeal, appraisal of what is required to solve the single problem of national security with the greatest economy compatible with requirements."

He was strongly convinced that there is a single department for the armed forces within which the difficult and numerous complexities can be ironed out prior to a presentation of requirements to the president and the congress, there can be little hope that we will be able to maintain through the years a military posture that will secure for us a lasting peace.

Could Co-Ordinate

Marshall cited the current legislative proposal from the navy recommending a post-war navy and marine corps as an example of how the joint chiefs of staff could not coordinate effectively in peacetime.

On this navy proposal, Marshall asserted, "the war department has been neither consulted nor informed."

And what is even more important to observe, he added, "the discussions and recommendations presented to the congress in support of this legislation lack a fundamental basis for the determination of our post-war establishment."

Such a procedure inevitably results in a confusion of congressional thought with the consequent difficulty or impossibility of reaching sound conclusions.

Single control of the armed forces will make for efficiency and economy, Marshall said, stressing that in time of peace it is money, not time, which is the dominating factor.

Marshall disclosed that it was he who, "concerned over our difficulties in coordinating the armed forces," had "recently pressed" the late President Roosevelt to appoint a personal chief of staff. Admiral William D. Leahy, Marshall said, he promised the appointment so that the president would "at least have somebody close to him with an overall military point of view."

Large Peacetime Army Of Little Use

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 19.—(INS)—A large peacetime army would be as useless as the Magnot Line, a noted chemist at the Westinghouse Research Laboratories said.

If the large sums spent on an army were diverted to financing scientific research, which includes the atom bomb, the need for a large peacetime conscript army would be eliminated said Dr. A. Allan Bates.

Only the incapacity of their industries prevented the Germans from putting their knowledge of atom power in effect.

"What we have done in science can and will be done by others in time. Widespread knowledge of atomic power and other powerful weapons already produced and in the course of development will make military manpower a much less potent factor in war," Dr. Bates added.

During the eighth and ninth centuries, A. D. gloves were worn chiefly by persons of noble birth.

Before the Smoke Prevention Association of America, Kaiser had five locomotives pour forth dense clouds of black smoke. Twisting the device, he caused the smoke to disappear and a light brown haze to take its place.

MAKES SMOKE DISAPPEAR
COLUMBUS, Oct. 19.—(INS)—The smoke was gone today after E. R. Kaiser assistant director of bituminous coal research, Pittsburgh, manipulated a control device with his wrist.

FACES PRICE CHARGES
PITTSBURGH, Oct. 19.—(INS)—Raymond W. Scott, 50, a farmer of Washington county, was held by the United States commissioner for selling poultry over OPA ceiling prices. The farmer also was charged with requiring "tickets" of eggs and failing to keep proper records. OPA agents said that Scott peddled poultry from a truck and that he weighed his merchandise all right—but put it on the scales in a galvanized bucket.

MONONGAHELA, Pa., Oct. 19.—(INS)—Mrs. Katherine Wolf, 45, was suffocated and a sailor was injured today in a fire that gutted three buildings in the business district of Monongahela.

General Stilwell Home From Wars

'Vinegar Joe' Arrives At California
Home In Time To Celebrate
35th Anniversary

CARMEL, Calif., Oct. 19.—(INS)—Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell and his battered old campaign hat which he very nearly lost on Okinawa today were home from the wars.

'Vinegar Joe,' famed leader of the China-Burma-India theater and more recently Tenth Army leader on Okinawa, landed at Monterey near his Carmel home, yesterday from Honolulu.

The battered old hat which has become a symbol of his presence was lost on Okinawa but found and returned by a soldier who claimed the offered reward of a case of Scotch.

Stilwell arrived home just in time to celebrate his 35th wedding anniversary.

Stilwell was accompanied in an Army B-17 by Major Frank D. Merrill, leader of the famous 'Merrill's Marauders,' and Brig. Gen. William E. Bergrin, chief of the staff of the Chinese combat and training command.

Big Business Men Optimistic But Doubtful

By JAMES L. KILGALLIN
INS Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—Optimism tinged with a shade of doubt marks the conversation today of big business men.

They show you their new peace-time wares and beam enthusiastically. Such things as the new De Luxe stream-lined railroad coach novel household equipment that will revolutionize the American home, and the latest models in trucks and tractors.

They tell of their large backlog of orders and of expansion plans totaling millions of dollars.

But in spite of their obvious faith in the future of American business, they admit, one after another, that they are not sure just how soon they can get going in production in a big way.

Labor Situation Battles
Reason: The unsettled labor situation.

With 17 other reporters making a "reconversion tour," I visited three of the Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing Company, the Ingersoll Division of Borg-Warner Corporation, and the International Harvester Company.

At the Pullman plant they unveiled for the first time the completed body frame structure of the nation's first post-war lightweight passenger car. It was "No. 1" off the assembly line.

C. A. Liddle, president of Pullman-Standard said the company has orders for 634 of these new lightweight passenger cars, which included with orders for freight and traction equipment, give the company a backlog of $106 million.

New Home-Building Unit
Moving along in the new plant, the reporters were met by Roy C. Ingersoll, president of the Ingersoll Division of Borg-Warner Corporation, and other company officials. Ingersoll waxed enthusiastically about a "tradition smashing" new home-building unit which his company will build at its Kalamazoo, Mich., plant.

The unit consolidates household heating, plumbing, electrical, bath, kitchen and laundry elements including major appliances. The unit is designed to make modern conveniences available at a price reduction.

Ingersoll revealed his company has a $50,000,000 order to make automatic washing machines for Bendix Home Appliances Inc.

The reporters then went to International Harvester Company plant where they saw red-painted tractors of various types rolling off the assembly line.

Fowler McCormick, chairman of the board, told the press the company's present housing facilities are large enough to handle anticipated business. He said the company plans an expansion program in excess of $100,000,000.

Nearly all the business men we reporters talk to speak gloomily about what they term restrictive OPA price policies and the materials and labor shortages. They are hoping all this can be cleared up within the next few months.

Chambers Motor Co. New Mack Dealer

Following a steady growth over the last twenty years, the Chambers Motor Company is broadening its service to Lawrence and Butler County business and industry by accepting the Mack Truck Agency for these Counties. According to T. E. Chambers, new Mack Trucks will be carried in stock and factory-trained mechanics will be available for prompt economical servicing.

At present, the demand for the larger units is so great that production capacity will not permit building trucks smaller than one and one-half ton.

When the Chambers Motor Company's new garage at 125 West Grant street, is completed and equipped, it will offer the most modern and complete car and truck service garage in this area.

State Is Aiding Public Works

Announcement Of Awards Is Made From Harrisburg; Harmony Gets $90,000

HARRISBURG, Oct. 19.—(INS)—State aid totaling $23,214.56 was approved today by Gov. Edward Martin for defraying half the costs incurred by seven political subdivisions planning public works projects.

The Grants were the first awarded under a $1,000,000 appropriation supervised by the post war planning commission.

Director Mark S. James said 225 other applications would be submitted to the chief executive by November 1.

Communities requesting assistance after the October 1 deadline will be eligible for aid only if their county allotments have not been diminished, James said. "The money will be distributed according to population."

"Late applications will probably be out of luck unless an additional appropriation is made or money is provided from some other source," he stated.

The awards and proposed projects were: Reading, $456,000 reservoir, $5,000; $260,000 stadium, $5,000; Sunbury, $493,000 building, $8,000; New Buffalo, $2,005 water supply equipment, $32.56; Harmony, $90,000 storm sewers and street repairs, $1,250; Berks county, $248,100 bridge, $3,900; and Sullivan county, $3,550 vault room, $31.

Wood Workers To Be Recruited

HARRISBURG, Oct. 19.—(INS)—The United States Employment Service announced today that a campaign to recruit 5000 workers to help boost production in Pennsylvania's "wood industries" will be opened November 1.

Pennsylvania's forest products industries are keystones in the entire reconstruction structure, since they not only represent a major employer in their own right but also turn out the products which are basic to many other industries, Director Florin J. Boland said.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Jan. 15.—A Salt Lake City newspaper editor has been notified that the late Vernon H. Arnold, who died about six weeks ago, has left a box of letters and a will to remove him from the office. Equipped with identification papers and an empty car, he went to work.

The note had slipped in a window left open during the night and was unable to find time to read it. There were letters to office workers and his marriage license in a draftsmen's envelope.

Can Discharge 100,000 Monthly At Indiantown Gap

Operating Schedule At Separation
Center Has Been Expanded
Rapidly

INDIANTOWN GAP, Oct. 19.—Brigadier General Malcolm P. Lindsey, commanding general of Indiantown Gap Military Reservation, announced the post's huge Separation Center now was on an operating schedule which would enable it to discharge approximately 100,000 soldiers monthly.

The expanding Separation Center originally set Nov. 1 as the date on which would reach a daily average of 3000 officers and enlisted men. However, a rapid change over of facilities in the recently activated Unit "B" and improvements in two other units has enabled the reservation to surpass the goal two weeks ahead of time.

The goal was passed for the first time Monday when the Center released a total of 3003 soldiers.

Processing Stepped Up
Unit "A," the longest established of the three units, has stepped its processing to a point where 36 officers of 45 men each, a total of 1620 soldiers, are being processed each day.

The second unit given to the exclusive processing of enlisted men now has taken over the facilities formerly used by the Reception Station for the redeployment of troops, and when the complete changeover is made its daily total will be equal to that of Unit "A." The unit now is approximately two-thirds complete in personnel and its processing facilities.

Indiantown Gap's third separation unit is for the processing of officers. It now is approaching its daily goal of 300 men.

The Separation Center at Indiantown Gap was activated on July 1 and during the early weeks of its operation processed a few hundred men daily. Constant revisions to obtain maximum efficiency in the processing has enabled the center to increase every week the total of soldiers discharged.

Mayoralty Race In N. Y. Lacks Zip

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Almost everybody who is anybody in New York politics is in the city's scrambling fight over a successor to stormy Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia.

Yet New York's voters, who like their politics with zip, find something strangely missing from the mayoralty race.

Maybe it's the fact that the fiery three-term Little Flower isn't running again.

Ten parties are trying to put their men in office in elections November 6. There are seven candidates in all. And the result is one of the oldest ailments of political groups: over to appear on voting machines.

Republicans are running and independent Democrat, General Sessions Judge Jonah Goldstein. A former Tammany man, the 59-year-old jurist is spearheading his campaign with an attack on Tammany.

He also has the endorsement of the City Fusion and Liberal Parties, whose leaders were once supporters of Mayor LaGuardia.

City registration completed totaled 2,196,926, a drop of 261,138 from the 2,458,064 total for 1941, the last mayoralty election year.

The Democratic candidate is William O'Dwyer, former Brooklyn district attorney. He was the choice of the city's five Democratic leaders, including Edward V. Loughlin of Tammany, and has the support of the American Labor Party.

Mayor LaGuardia, although a member of the A. L. P., is backing a "No Deal" ticket, headed by City Council President Newbold Morris, a Republican and member of an old Knickerbocker family.

Smart Dog Finds Own Ration Book

LAWRENCEVILLE, Ill.—Eddie, a wire-haired terrier, is the smartest dog in town, according to his owner, Crvan Calvert. In the midst of a conversation on problems of feeding a dog during meat rationing, Calvert was interrupted by "Eddie" nudging him. He had a ration book in his mouth. Calvert, of course, returned the book to its owner, who had lost it. But he still thinks "Eddie" is a pretty sharp canine.

INSULATION ADDS TO COMFORT OF HOUSE

Insulation is an important improvement which can be made to the house that will contribute something to comfortable living. Insulation not only gives better protection but saves money by reducing the fuel costs.

To be most effective, insulation must be properly placed and correctly applied so that all areas are reached. When it is colder outside than inside, heat escapes in varying amounts through wall areas, ceiling and roof, doors and windows and cracks around doors and windows. The temperatures of the wall, floor and ceiling surfaces are important for comfort. Because the body loses heat by radiation, the colder the surfaces are the more heat the body gives off. This giving off of heat causes a person to feel cold though the temperature of the air in the room is comparatively warm.

Surface temperatures depend on the rate of heat flow through the walls. When insulation is used and the heat flow lessened, the walls are warmer and less heat is required to keep the body comfortable.

Insulating materials are of several types. Some are used only for their insulating values while others are structural materials as well. Whichever type is used, be sure all surfaces are insulated. There is no need to insulate floors over heated basements or heated rooms.

Keystone Division Will Honor Memory Of Men Who Died

Society Of 28th Division Is Planning
Tribute To Men Who Gave Lives
In Second World War

HARRISBURG, Oct. 19.—(INS.)—The Society of the 28th Division indicated today that officers and enlisted men of the Keystone Division who died in battle during World War II would be honored at the unit's shrine near Boulders, Centre county.

National Commander James T. Spence, of Harrisburg, explained that while the shrine was dedicated in honor of the 2874 men of the division who died in battle 27 years ago, memorials for the dead of the present unit had been proposed.

We have been talking about it a great deal but no definite plans have been made," Spence said.

He indicated that the completion of the shrine in memory of World War I dead would be carried out before monuments were constructed for slain officers and men of World War II.

William A. Miller of Harrisburg, director of the society's war memorials, said monuments to the memory of officers and men of infantry and artillery regiments were scheduled for completion along with the placing of 60 tablets in niches in a memorial wall for officers.

To Erect Monuments
Monuments were slated to be erected in honor of the 107th Field Artillery and the 109th, 110th, 111th and 112th Infantry regiments of World War I, Miller added.

Spence said the society had approximately 4000 members in 39 posts including units located at Chicago and Los Angeles. He explained there was a "potential" membership of nearly 40,000 men including those who served in the 28th during World War II but had been transferred to other outfits.

War priorities, he added, had delayed the construction of the monuments during the past four years.

It will be quite a job to complete the shrine and the situation looks much brighter now, Spence said.

The memorial was founded by the late Col. Theodore Best at Boulders, who served as an aide to the commanding general of the division during World War I.

The state owns the 75-acre plot which is located near the geographical center of the commonwealth. The monuments, however, were financed by the members of the society and veterans organizations.

Barber's Hobby Is Old Clocks

WAUKEGAN, Ill., Oct. 19.—Andy Levandusky, North Chicago barber, has 56 clocks on the walls of his barber shop. Collecting old clocks is his hobby. At one time his collections numbered 119, but at present because of recent wartime sales, it totals only 89.

It all began when Levandusky traded his shop-clock to a peddler for what appeared to be a worthless old-fashioned clock. However, when several lovers of antique were removed, Levandusky found himself the owner of a beautiful antique mahogany timepiece.

His clocks date back to 1818, he said. The older ones are operated by weights. The use of springs did not begin until after the turn of the 18th Century, he said. The oldest clock in the collection is a Waterbury shelf clock made in 1818.

He also has a calendar clock. Manufactured in 1865, it tells not only the day of the day, but the day of the month and the month of the year. It is a weight driven and must be wound every eight days. Its pendulum is a magnifying glass. The collection prize is a musical clock of a steeple design, about nine inches in height, which was made in Germany. Another clock he bought from a Louisville, Ky., blacksmith who said it had been left with him by Jesse James, the famous outlaw. Owned at the nearby Great Lakes Naval Training station, Levandusky said, have been heavy purchasers of his clocks the last two years.

Weather Results In $2,000,000 Loss To State Vegetables

Tomato Harvests Ended In Most

Corn Marketings Off

HARRISBURG, Oct. 19.—Recent weather conditions virtually ended growth of many late summer vegetables and caused a $2,000,000 loss in Pennsylvania's commercial apple crop, the State Agricultural Department reported.

Marketing of late summer crops decreased rapidly while fall crops, including apples, were expected to be lower than last year, while a decrease was reported in buckwheat.

Ben Franklin Faculty Has Dinner Party Event For John Magee Thursday

Honoring John Magee, a member of the Benjamin Franklin Junior high school faculty, who has just returned from service, the faculty members of the school held a dinner in New Wilmington Thursday night, October 18. It was a typical Franklin faculty affair, practically everybody present and everybody enjoying it to the full.

Miss Edith Dunlap, chairman of the service committee of the faculty, was the chairman of the evening, with the other two members of the committee, Miss Mary Scherger and Mrs. Agnes Givins Roberts aiding her.

Decorations Unique

The table decorations were unique. Russell W. Renshaw, instructor in the vocational shops, had the New York skyline worked out in wood and then marked each table. The decorations consisted of a tiny paper flag marked "Welcome Jack" with each guest's name on the base of it. The programs were the work of Miss Mary McBride and Mrs. Grace Lyons of the art department. They were in the shape and color of an American flag with the stripes forming parts of the pages, and in the upper left hand corner hand painted fields of blue stars. The programs were something that might well be copied for any patriotic dinner.

The program of speaking was brief. Miss Dunlap welcomed the guests and special guests, spoke briefly of Mr. Magee's service with the Army, and the pleasure of the faculty in having him back. She then presented Mr. Magee. He spoke briefly of his three years in uniform and mentioned some of the English customs with American customs.

Principal Speaks

Gerald E. Nord, principal of the school, was the one other speaker. He touched upon the work of the school, commended the fine spirit of co-operation which had been manifest since he had taken charge of the school and said that while he had not known Mr. Magee before he left for service, he had found him a real school man in the short time he had known him. During the program some pep songs were sung by the crowd, with Miss Esther Gibbons directing them and Miss Theodora Pollock at the piano. Bina and informal entertainment concluded the evening. Superintendent and Mrs. Frank L. Burton were special guests.

Mr. Magee, an instructor in Civics in Benjamin Franklin, went into service in September 1942. He trained as a weather observer at Chanute Field, Illinois, and on June 1, 1943, went to England with the Eighth Air Force. He served with the Eighth as a sergeant for 26 months and along with the other members of the unit received the presidential unit citation for outstanding performance.

Man's Head Is Changing But Brain Still Same

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M.—(INS)—The head of mankind is getting shorter and wider, but not because the brain space is getting any bigger.

The change in the shape of the head is explained by Franz Weidenreich of the American Museum of Natural History as caused by man's adjusting himself physically to the conditions of his environment.

Any "super race" argument that a particular head shape means a superior race is a kind of obsolescence, unsupported by fact. Dr. Weidenreich said in an article in a new quarterly, "Southwestern Journal of Anthropology."

Even among some anthropologists, says the writer, the idea persists that a high, narrow head is an indication of intellectual inferiority and that the short, wide head has more brain capacity.

There is, he writes, that there was an equal brain capacity in the prehistoric Neanderthal man in that of present-day man. Three bones in the short, wide skull make the cranial cavity somewhat smaller. The same may be the case with the high, narrow skull.

In prehistoric times most men had long narrow skulls, much because that is the way skulls grew when men were on all fours, says Dr. Weidenreich. When men stood up the shape of the head changed.

All mankind has undergone or is undergoing the change to the short, wide skull, in a physical evolutionary process, he declared.

This "brachycephalization" (broadening of the skull) is not confined to certain races or groups, Dr. Weidenreich said, as is shown by the fact that brachycephalic skulls occur everywhere.

The new journal of anthropology in which the article appeared is published by the University of New Mexico Press.

NEW AUSTRIA NOW SLOWLY TAKING SHAPE

TOLEDO, O., Oct. 19.—(INS)—A completely waterproof ignition system has been developed by the Electric Auto-Lite company and has been in successful operation on many Allied military vehicles. It was announced today.

The system is primarily designed for use on trucks but can be applied to passenger cars.

Because of war conditions the waterproofing of trucks in shallow water where there are no available anti-rust systems is a problem. The performance of the engine and its control is the driver's ability to keep the truck above water.

Included in the system is the oil, dielectric spark plugs and all connecting wire and cable. Special insulation and construction insure the waterproofing of all equipment, including the voltage regulator.

At the same time, Auto-Lite engineers planned and the development of a waterproof condenser and spark plug system to work in conjunction with the ignition system.

Both starting and running which might be an enemy have been waterproofed, according to the company.

Previously, Auto-Lite announced the performance of a waterproof battery which will operate perfectly in depths of six feet of salt water.

Congress Will Not Support Truman's Plea

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(INS)—Defeat in Congress appeared imminent today for President Truman as the House prepared to vote on a proposal to return the U. S. Employment Service to the states.

Supporters of the President, apparently in a minority, launched a fight to uphold Mr. Truman in his request that the state employment offices be returned under government control until July 1, 1947. The Chief Executive had termed continued government supervision necessary to reversion.

The proposal to end government control was included in a bill to reconvert fifty-two billion 453 million dollars of appropriations and contract authorizations which had been legislated for war purposes.

The House Appropriations committee, acting upon a motion by Rep. Dirksen (R. Ill.), withdrew funds for administering the USES from the War Manpower Commission and allocated thirty million dollars to the states for that purpose.

Opponents prepared to offer two motions. One to require the states to underwrite 50 per cent of the administrative expenses, and if that failed, another to eliminate the Dirksen amendment.

If the states have to put up 50 per cent of the money, none of them will want their employment office back, commented Rep. Marcantonio (A. L. N. Y.).

It was generally conceded that if the proposal was approved by the House it faced concurrence from the Senate which previously voted to return to USES to the states within 90 days. The House proposal would make the transfer effective in 30 days.

Former Marine Held On Charges In Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 19.—(INS)—Sol Wolpert, 19-year-old honorably discharged marine who said he was from Pittsburgh, today was held for the grand jury under $5000 bail on charges of stealing money and illegally wearing a uniform.

Marine Sgt. Cornelia Hope of Philadelphia told U. S. Commissioner Norman J. Griffin that Wolpert posed as a wounded veteran of Pacific campaigns and said he was in Philadelphia to prepare for a visit by Lt. Col. Gregory Boyington, marine corps ace.

Sgt. Hope declared Wolpert became friendly with service people stationed in Philadelphia and was invited to several parties. At each party, money disappeared from the purses of women guests, she said.

FBI agents testified that Wolpert masqueraded as a former prisoner of the Japanese and became friendly with Marine Warrant Officer Walter Davis of Rochester, N. Y. The agents charged that Wolpert stole money and a uniform from Davis, in addition to owning hotel bills in Philadelphia and Boston.

Wolpert served in the marine corps about a year, before being discharged early in 1943.

A joint Red Cross-USO library has been opened in Chungking.

Miners Begin To Return To Work

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 19.—(INS)—Mine supervisors workers and rank and file, whose month-long strike in Western Pennsylvania alone cost a million dollars in pay, today began their trek back to the pits.

The H. C. Frick Coke company resumed operations yesterday at a strip mine and nine smaller deep pits.

Aside from the wages lost by the miners, hundreds of thousands of additional workers were lost in the strike by the 17,500 furloughed steelworkers.

Carnegie-Illinois Steel company reported that its Clairton coke plant will continue to operate at 25 per cent of capacity until Tuesday when a 50 per cent schedule will begin if coal is available.

Five Story Plant Is 'Empire State' Of Chicken World

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah.—(INS)—The Empire State building of the chicken world is an ultra-modern five-story building in Salt Lake City, complete with elevator and heating plant.

Originator of this new chicken apartment is Merle Bantock, who has eight thousand chickens to care for. He once housed the flock in five separate buildings and spent a full eight-hour day looking after them.

In his new chicken-building he can whip through his day's work in four hours.

Winter time formerly was a problem, too, because often he had to clear paths in the snow to get to his coops. Now in bad weather he needn't venture outside the building at all.

The baby chicks start life on the ground floor and by the time they're ready for the roasting pan they have moved up to the top.

Winter Threat Worst In Years; Prepare Autos

AMES, Ia., Oct. 19.—With Old Man Winter just around the corner, Prof. Ralph A. Moyer of Iowa State college today warned that the coming snow and ice season may cause one of the worst "traffic accident winters" in history.

As chairman of the National Safety Council's committee on winter driving hazards, made up of 30 experts in fields of traffic and transportation, the professor has conducted exhaustive research into the subject over the past eight years.

A study of recent years shows traffic accident death rates for 36 northern states were 24 to 33 per cent higher in the winter than in the summer months, he declared. "and the combination of more cars, many of which are in poor condition, more gas, and more restraint weary drivers may result in the worst traffic accident winter in history. Drivers in snow belt states must consider dangerous road conditions and should immediately check their brakes, tire chains, windshield wipers, defrosters, and headlights for protection against the two additional hazards of winter—slippery roads and poor visibility."

Future Cars Safer

Concerning future auto and truck models, Professor Moyer said manufacturers are giving more consideration to safety and practical fender styling which make it easier to put on anti-skid chains needed for snow and ice. New windshield and window designs, defrosters and head lights also improve winter visibility.

Referring to a few pre-war models whose design either made impossible or discouraged taking precautions during winter, Moyer said futuristic streamlining can be beautiful and at the same time functional in design for both winter and summer.

"For drivers who cannot start on snow or ice this winter, it will be a misfortune," Moyer said. "For those who cannot stop, it may be a calamity. You must be able to see a hazard to avoid it. Drivers who are indifferent to the hazard of operating their cars without adequate traction, and with windshields fogged or covered with frost or snow, are inviting all kinds of trouble which no trip, however important, can justify. The comfort and protection afforded by cars in severe weather can be safely enjoyed, however, by those who reduce speeds and take practical precautions against the added winter hazards."

May Use Flame Throwers To Melt Ice At Airport

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 19.—(INS)—Flame throwers to melt the ice and snow from Pittsburgh's airport runways is the latest scheme figured out to lick the annual headache.

County Commissioner John J. Kane, who thought of the idea said: "Experts may think I'm crazy, but I've got a hunch it'll work."

Kane said the county will purchase two from the war surplus properties and engage Pacific war veterans trained to handle them.

30-TON DRAKE WELL MEMORIAL MARKER MOVED

MEADVILLE, Oct. 19.—The boulder, which marks the Drake Well site at Drake Memorial Park, Titusville, has been moved to a new site to permit erection of a replica of the original Drake Well. It was announced Friday morning.

The massive chunk of sandstone, erected originally by the Canadian Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, of Titusville, and since taken over by the state, is estimated to weigh 30 tons.

Once the boulder is anchored on its new base, all rocks which surrounded it will be put back in their original location, as each was numbered in its place before taken out to insure this.

Actual erection of the replica will not get under way for at least a week, it was reported.

Railroaders Will Start Negotiations For Wage Increase

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Oct. 19.—(INS)—A. F. Whitney, international president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, announced Thursday that negotiations for a 25 per cent wage increase for railroad employees will begin next Wednesday in Chicago.

The brotherhood will seek an increase for 215,000 employees of railroads under contract with the union in the United States, Canada and New Zealand, Whitney said.

He declared the workers have not had a wage boost since 1943, when they received a 20 per cent raise.

"We will handle all our movements in a manner that will not interfere with the country getting back on an even keel," Whitney said.

"We will follow the line as set up by the government for the handling of labor matters."

Whitney said the brotherhood also will seek a reduction from a 10-hour working day to an eight-hour day for some groups of passenger department employees. He charged that these workers are the "only ones in labor still on a 10-hour day."

He came to Allentown for the quadrennial meeting of state legislative representatives of the brotherhood.

EASTON.—Cornelius Turner, 42, should know better now than to have an ice pick in his hip pocket because it can be a rather expensive pocketpiece. He was fined $25 for totting the pick by a magistrate.

323rd Artillery Ready For Reunion

Plans for the annual reunion of the 323rd Light Field Artillery of World War I at the Broadhead hotel, Friday, October 26, and all day Saturday, Oct. 27, have been completed, President Roy J. Barros stated, following a recent meeting of the committee.

They will attend the Beaver Field-Altoona football game in a body Friday evening when the band will render a special program in their honor.

Mayor Dennis Mulvihill will welcome the men at the business session starting at 2:30 o'clock Saturday. Memorial services will honor those who have died during the year.

Quite a number of New Castle men were members of the unit, and will be in attendance.

Six Counties In Conference HereRegion II Welfare Conference Held In New Castle
On ThursdayABLE SPEAKERS
MAKE ADDRESSESComing from the six counties of Adams, Jefferson, Indiana, Butler,
Armstrong and Lawrence, nearly 150 delegates attended part or all of the sessions of the Pennsylvania Welfare conference, Region II, which met in The Castleton hotel
Thursday.State Secretary Speaks
Speakers at the luncheon and afternoon meetings ranged from Miss Sophie M. R. O'Hara, secretary of the state welfare department, to Miss Marie Mooney, acting recreation director in Pittsburgh, and Lt. Bernard Gold, chief clinical psychologist at Deshon.In her talk on "Community Responsibility and the Children," Miss O'Hara placed the work of this region against the background of the statewide situation."It is time for intelligent government to choose between purely casti-dial care of those classified as delinquents, and preventative care," the secretary declared. "Even if we limit our consideration to the children who are direct wards of the state, the largest single controlled group of human beings in the state, the problem is great. The right care and education would cost this region $64,000 a year. However, if through neglect these children became criminals, they would cost
$8,000,000."Humanity Of Moment Calling the veteran the "Humanity Of Moment," Lt. Bernard Gold emphasized the psychological aspects of the veterans' return to his home and to his community."Most men will return with a greater maturity and an improved sense of values, but a few will be hardened and aimless, failing to make the readjustment. It is those men, as well as the ones with physical or mental wounds, who will need the greatest understanding," Lt.
Gold said.Explaining that well-meaning relatives and friends can often do more harm than good by showing too much curiosity or by pampering the veteran too much, Lt. Gold stated that the Army never discharges a wounded or sick man until it has done the most it can possibly do for him.Then the home and the community take over, and it is on them that his readjustment will largely depend. His family and community could become oriented to the situation, and the man should be encouraged to resume his old relationships in the community. Above all, he should be treated as an individual.Another Human Being
The veteran is just another hu-man being, not a separate species, the psychologist pointed out. His rights are expected by every citizen
—a democratic government, an environment favorable to mental and physical health, good housing, an opportunity for cultural and moral growth, freedom from intolerance and oppression.Miss Mooney based her talk largely on her experience as director of the Pittsburgh recreational set-up, with emphasis on the sense of community which comes through shared recreation."Most of all, we need a sense of community in the world, and the development of recreational facilities is not the whole answer," Miss Mooney stated. "We need a more composite set-up with continuous, not flitting, planning. Wholesome recreation does, however, help to solve the youth problem."Fast-Moving Profession
To be really adequate, a recreational program must have a regular source of income, and trained recreational workers, the director told her group. Recreational work is a fast-moving profession, and the workers need training to keep abreast of the trends."School buildings are municipal buildings, and should be used more for recreation, meetings and other community activities," continued
Miss Mooney. This field is wide, and one cause of failure is the streaming of one need or one activity to the exclusion of others. In planning for the youth of the community, recreation, education, religion, and the home must all work together."Mayor John F. Haven, who has been one of the leaders in the New Castle recreation program, presided at this discussion group, while Dr.
C. C. Green, chairman of the local Veterans' Advisory Council, presided over the group which Lt. Gold addressed. Judge W. W. Graham presided at the luncheon, with Mayor Haven speaking briefly and Rev. G. S. Bennett giving the invocation. W. E. Langan, chairman of the 1945 Community Chest and War Relief Fund drive, presided during the morning session, when Wilbur
F. Newstetter, dean of the Pitt
School of Applied Social Science, addressed the conference.Baden High School

New Castle And North Catholic Battle Here Tonight

First Meeting Of Schoolboy Teams

New Castle Faces Strongest Team To Date In Pittsburgh Eleven

Kickoff At 8 O'Clock Will Find Grid Filled For Grid Contest

With indicated perfect weather, countless hundreds of football fans will crowd their way through the turnstiles at the stadium tonight to watch the New Castle high grid machine battle a newcomer to the card, North Catholic high of Pittsburgh. The kickoff at 8 o'clock will find two highly trained, eager grid elevens ready to compete on the greensward in their first clash.

North Catholic high, scheduled by Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner, when Erie Cathedral Prep "took a runout powder" in their original game here, has turned out to be one of the strongest teams that New Castle has faced this year, judging from the fine record the Trojans, as they are called, have established.

Janasek Ram Rod
New Castle will have to be at its very best to upset the visitors from the Smoky City, coached by John Janasek, former Carnegie Tech star. One thing is certain, New Castle has not faced a heavier team this season. Ray Janasek, the North Catholic fullback, goes around 220 and is a powerhouse on backing the line. He will be hard to bring down.

Sports who have seen North Catholic in action this year have brought back glowing reports of the kind that make ordinary coaches and teams quiver, but not New Castle high. North Catholic has bowled over New Kensington, Aliquippa and Scott high by sheer power of their big backfield and line. The only way to stop this mighty pieceman is to throw passes.

Will Open Visitors Up
Phil Bredenbaugh has perfected a passing assault that he believes will break the trick tonight. New Castle has not thrown many passes this year, waiting for just an opportunity like this to present itself. In previous games New Castle has used straight power plays to win. Tonight, meeting an equally powerful team, will call for strategy of another nature.

There is no better way to open up a tight defensive team than to throw a lot of passes.
New Castle faces the big invaders tonight in good shape but for one spot at left guard where young Padula will be used in place of the injured Herbie Stewart. Stewart injured in the Altoona game, and

The New Castle backfield at the start will have Lou Gilmore at quarter, Sammie Flora and Bud Panella at the halves and Billy Walls at fullback, with Gribble, Brown and Garber sure to see a lot of action.

Visitors Want To Win
This is a non-league game. New Castle can afford to open up with all they have. It is sure to be a game that pleases the most rabid of fans. It will be a spectacular game. North Catholic is coming here to shoot the works. They are riding high in the opinion of the Pittsburgh sports writers for their work in dumping New Kensington, Aliquippa and Scott. They would like to add New Castle to this list. New Castle is equally determined that they shall not spring a surprise here. They will find a New Castle team that is ready.

This game has caught the fancy of the fans. The stands will be well filled. North Catholic will not bring the big crowds with them that Youngstown East, Sharon and Farrell did, but nevertheless the fans of the district are anxious to see this big Trojan powerhouse in action and will turn out in large numbers.

New Castle will be away next week being slated for a Class AA game at Clarion. The next home game after tonight will bring Aliquippa High here Friday, Nov. 2.

Ellwood Playing Aliquippa Tonight

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 19.—Ellwood City High Wolverine football team, idle since their 7-7 tie with Glassport on Friday October 5, will go to the Beaver Valley tonight for a Class AA game with Aliquippa High Indians.

The kickoff will be at 8 o'clock. Coach Howard Gills has the Ellwood team at the top of its game for the engagement.

Ellwood's next home game will be on Friday night, October 26 meeting Greenville High under the lights.

Junior Highs Await Kickoff

Franklin And Washington Battle At Stadium Saturday Will Draw Crowd

Two highly trained and confident football teams representing Ben Franklin and George Washington Junior High schools, await the kickoff at the stadium Saturday night in the annual junior high championship game. The game will get under way at 8 o'clock.

The big powerful Franklin High team is heavy favorites to cup the 1945 title not held by Washington as a result of a stunning win last year. Washington will not have as big a team as last year but will depend on speed in their backfield to win for them over the East Siders.

Expect Big Crowd
Coach Austin, Commodore at Franklin High will give his squad the final once-over today and Coach Art Alexander at Washington will do likewise. A fine game is anticipated by followers of both teams.

The admission for the game will be 15 cents for students and 25 cents for adults. There are no reserved seats for this game.

Temple Battles West Virginia

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 18.—(INS)—The undefeated Temple University Owls will be out to stretch their win record to four straight tonight when they meet West Virginia University under the lights at Temple stadium.

The Templars will take the field as heavy favorites to trounce the Mountaineers, who have a 30-30 record.

Coach Fay Morrison will make only one change in the Owls' lineup. Andy Volkmann will replace Joe Crispo, injured back.

The West Virginians, who have a still defense, scored a 6-0 triumph over the Owls in last year's meeting at Morgantown.

TED MCGREW, scout for the Phillies, who is a member of the Chicago hunting party in South Dakota where pheasants are as plentiful as clubs in the Northeast, recently told how he persuaded pitcher Charles Schanz to see the light. "Do you always try to throw strikes?" asked Ted. "I certainly do," replied Schanz. "Well, don't," cautioned the scout. "I wouldn't give a nickel for a flinger who doesn't know how to waste a pitch." . . . Big Crosby is sponsoring junior golf tournaments in Southern California. . . . Replying to criticism to the effect that Chicago and New York sport scribes were smearing Chandler, baseball czar, because a man they favored did not receive the appointment, Dan Parker, New York scribe, denies that is the truth and in no uncertain manner asserted that "Happy" doesn't match up to the position.

Gene Burton of New York, will box Doll Rafferty of Milwaukee in the main bout of 10 rounds next Monday night at Duquesne gardens, Pittsburgh. Although there is no Catholic Football League here this fall several Catholic church elevens are playing, two of which are St. Michael and St. Joseph. No doubt their basketball hoops will resume as soon as the penguin is booted out of 1945. . . . Jake Mintz, economist, is making for Art Rooney and Barney McGinley is a saving man. He uses their Pittsburgh Steelers envelopes to mail boxing literature. . . . To Francis, No Dummy Scrummage is not too boxing literature. . . . Coach Howie Oziel of Yale has a system of scoring individual players in each game. In two games, Paul Walker, was accredited with two zeroes.

If Pitt is admitted into the Western Conference this year it will make more for it. The organization now contains the Wolves, Wildcats, Badgers and Gophers. . . . One of the stiffest blows a returned soldier can be handed is the answer: "No job needed." . . . Strangler Lewis, former world's heavyweight champion wrestler, is matting again. It is our belief he must be three score or more years of age.

An executive may be an expert at dictation but helpless as a typist a local sports reporter. . . . In some cities firemen and police pass their leisure time knitting or crocheting. Possibly Chiefs Jimmy Thomas and Bob Hanna can answer this indoor sports query. . . . A testimonial dinner in honor of Steve O'Neil, the manager of the baseball kings, Detroit Tigers, will be held November 14, in Cleveland. . . . Rejuvenation is on the way. This is seen in a decision to revive six-day bike racing. . . . More than 100,000 sports fans saw the Red Army defeat the Moscow Dynamo, 2-1, to win the USSR football championship in Moscow.

Shaughnessy Says Panthers May Win

Pitt Coach Says, 'I Question Whether Notre Dame Can Kick Us Saturday'

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 19.—(INS)—The Fighting Irish of Notre Dame arrived in Pittsburgh today for their grid engagement with the Pitt Panthers Saturday. The Irish were scheduled for a light warmup this afternoon. Freshman halfback Phil Capella, Rochester, Pa., who has been home sick, said he was not nervous at the prospect.

Pitt Panther Coach Clark Shaughnessy had a patient rally last night that Pitt might not be too good against Notre Dame, even when it beat Notre Dame.

"I question whether Notre Dame is good enough to take our measure," he added.

NEW TRACK RECORD
NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—(INS)—Reece, three-year-old daughter of Mahmoud, today set a new Juvenile track record of 1:10 1/5 for 55 furlongs. This placed one-fifth of a second off the former mark held jointly by King Saxon, Apache and Riverland.

Reece was one of five winners ridden during the day by jockey Ted Atkinson.

Junior Rifle Club Names Throop Head

The New Castle Rifle club, at a recent meeting elected William Throop as the new president. . . . The new secretary is Charles Throop and treasurer is James Gay.

The executive officer is Gordon McGartney. The club will meet again at 7 o'clock on the evening of October 20. It was announced by Secretary Throop, Jesse L. Moore, is the instructor of the club and is doing a swell job.

RAMS SIGN SHAW
CLEVELAND, Oct. 19.—(INS)—The Cleveland Rams, standing undefeated at the top of the National Pro Football league, today revealed they had signed addition to their strength.

General Manager, Charles F. Shaw, announced that Bob Shaw, former all-American end at Ohio State, would join the team late in time for the game with the New York Giants November 4.

If Hugh Devore, Notre Dame member, follows the same strategy he used in beating Dartmouth, Pittsburgh fans Saturday are expecting to see practically the entire Notre Dame male student body against Dartmouth. Devore used 36 of his squad of 33.

Fair Or Foul

By LAWTON CARVER

International News Service Sports Editor
NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—You can call this little piece "the ticklish T" or any other similar platitude which may or may not occur to you.

Some people have called it one thing, Chicago Bear fans, for instance, who have seen Sid Snyders Luckman at work, probably would have trouble envisioning any other type of attack.

Butchered By Many
Others, who have seen the T butchered in the hands of natives from coast to coast, undoubtedly using more evil connotations to mind.

That's because the T, which is to football today what the single wing was to the gridiron a decade ago, is just about the trickiest and most exasperating form of football offense known to mankind.

Admittedly, the T is not a new thing. But when it gets to the point where grammar school teams start running all their plays from this one formation, I think it is high time someone interceded for the great legion of football fans.

To begin at the beginning, football is hazyed as the greatest of all sports. Thousands upon thousands of grid-ming fans flock to stadiums throughout the country each week-end to see 22 strangely-clad men knock each other down, and incidentally to get a look at that penguin ball which perpetuates, once the damage.

Understand this. It is the basic formula of the successful T. You are not supposed to see the ball.

Depends On Quarterback
Now that makes the very interesting speculation. Here we have eleven men in bright new pads, lined up in positions of do-or-die defense. Facing them, with snarls of undying hatred, we have eleven men in bright new pads, lined up in the cruelest positions imaginable.

The quarterback is it. He is the child, about whom even T-formations may be devised. Take up a stance of indecent backward, to say the least, directly behind and somewhat under the center. The center, in turn, bows over the ball in fairly convention fashion, with the exception that instead of passing the ball he merely pushes it back into the quarterback's hand.

At this point everything breaks loose all at once. The quarterback receives the ball at his feet. It looks that way from Section D, Row 34. He immediately crouches double so that no one can see what he is doing.

Who Has The Ball
Women faint. Strong men tremble. Twenty-two football players do their best to kill each other. Where, or where is the ball?

It is now for the first time that one realizes why there are four of these running around on the field at all time.

Simply this. Since no one knows where the ball may be, one needs an official for each possible ball carrier.

Having four officials is a fine solution for the moment, but when somebody goes and invents a five-man backfield with a rotating left guard—that for my money will bring an awful end to the great spectator sport of football.

Irish Coach

HERE'S a new picture of Hugh Devore, the Notre Dame football coach this year. Devore is a former star at Notre Dame and succeeded Ed McKeever as head coach this year. (International)

Bob Deuter and Don Schneider, speedy University of Pennsylvania ball carriers, were back in the practice line-up today following treatment for injuries sustained in Penn's 49-0 shellacking of North Carolina last weekend.

Meanwhile, backfield coach Horace Henderson warned the Quakers that they will be facing an even better Navy team on Oct. 27 than they did last year.

College Elevens Face Tough Games

Ohio State Vs Purdue Will Be Headliner In Midwest Saturday

Alabama Vs Tennessee Will Be Spotlight Game Down South

By LES CONKLIN

International News Service Sports Writer
NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Only two standout contests of national prominence feature this Saturday, gridiron card—Ohio State vs. Purdue in the mid-west, and Alabama vs. Tennessee in the south. And Ohio State and Alabama, both on the road to sectional championships in football, to be well up in the list of national contenders, figure to win by one to two touchdowns.

Both Ohio State and Purdue have beaten Iowa and Wisconsin—the Buckeyes by 42 to 6 and 12 to 6, the Boilermakers by 40 to 6 and 13 to 7. Of these scores, one figure will determine the championship of the south and possibly the rest of a Rose Bowl bid. If Alabama wins, the Crimson Tide will still have to get by Georgia next week.

Alabama Vs. Vols

Unless Alabama and Tennessee wind up in a tie, the game probably will determine the championship of the south and possibly the rest of a Rose Bowl bid. If Alabama wins, the Crimson Tide will still have to get by Georgia next week.

Perhaps the three hardest games of the day to size up are unbeaten

Columbia vs. Colgate in the east; Illinois vs. Wisconsin in the Midwest; Southern Methodist vs. Texas Tech in the Southwest. Here's picking Columbia to lead the east, Illinois to lead the Midwest, Texas Tech to lead the Southwest. As for Baylor and Texas Tech, there's a probable tie-to pick 'em yourself.

Army in Rump

The national three-day team are the winners of the Army. Army played today against Marquette. They beat Marquette 10-0. Army will play Georgia Tech next week. Army will play Georgia Tech next week. Army will play Georgia Tech next week.

And Notre Dame should have a tough game. Pittsburgh is the favorite to win much in the running for the Big Ten title. Notre Dame is a favorite to win much in the running for the Big Ten title. Notre Dame is a favorite to win much in the running for the Big Ten title.

Great Lakes Naval over Marquette
Tonight, St. Mary's academy may trip on a cocky 10-0. A victory or at least make it a close game.

Plenty of Good Games
Pittsburgh's game with Texas Tech, M. over Texas Christian, and Washington State over Oregon.

The balance of the card looks relatively easy.

East: Holy Cross over Brown. Penn State over Bucknell. Temple over West Virginia. Navy over Navy. Also Navy over C. C. N. Y. by three touchdowns.

CONN SIGNS TO BOX JOE LOUIS IN JUNE, 1946

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—(INS)—Billy Conn signed a contract with Fight Promoter Mike Jacobs Thursday calling for a championship bout with heavyweight titleholder Joe Louis next June. Louis signed with Jacobs on Tuesday.

The Conn signing was held up a day because of a protest by Billy and his manager, Johnny Ray, against a clause in the contract which stipulated that there be no time-up fights prior to the Louis fight.

Following a lengthy morning meeting with Jacobs behind locked doors, Conn and Ray today okayed the stipulation and signed, agreeing not to hold any time-up bouts.

No Previous Matches

The no time-up clause will not interfere with commitments already made by Conn for exhibition fights, refereeing tasks, or any other public appearances he has made or may make in the future, such as radio performances.

The heavyweight challenger, honorably discharged from the army a month ago, said that he would undergo a period of light conditioning until March, when he will start heavy training.

The Conn-Louis fight, which is expected to draw an all-time record gate of $2,000,000, is tentatively booked for New York's Yankee Stadium. The battle will take place five years from the last meeting between the two fighters, in which Louis came from behind to knock out the challenger in the thirtieth round.

Present at today's ceremonies were a group of fight notables, including light heavyweight champion Gus Lesnevich.

A sure and confident air pervaded the naval academy today that the game with Georgia Tech Saturday at Baltimore would result in a navy victory.

Even if we could score a hundred points against Georgia we would not—and can not," said Coach Oscar (Swede) Hauger.

A crowd of more than 52,000 was assured today for the Minnesota-Northwestern game Saturday which marks the Gophers' 1945 conference debut.

Backs Red Williams and Bob Kasper were still handicapped by injured ankles.

Woodcock Unable To Battle In U. S.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—(INS)—The proposed international boxing match between Bruce Woodcock, British empire heavyweight champion, and Gus Lesnevich, world's light-heavyweight champion, today came a cropper.

Promoter Mike Jacobs announced he had been informed that Woodcock, a locomotive fitter, had been classified, by the British ministry of works as a "key man" and would be unable to leave his job.

Cleveland Indians Purchase Don Black

CLEVELAND, Oct. 19.—(INS)—Purchase of Don Black, 27-year-old right-hander, from the Philadelphia Athletics by the Cleveland Indians was announced Thursday by Vice President Roger Peckenpaugh. The deal involved cash only.

Black, who won five and lost 11 last season, was suspended last summer for breaking training rules.

NIGHT GAME ON COAST

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 19.—(INS)—Because something new has been added—in the person of Frankie Albert—former Stanford All-American—an on-and-off St. Mary's Pre-flight football team was tagged a 2 to 1 favorite over the University of California tonight at Los Angeles.

The Pittsburgh Steelers have dropped John "Pepper" Petrella, discharged war veteran and former Penn State halfback star, Petrella, who weighs only 175 pounds, found the going rough in the ranks of the paid boys.

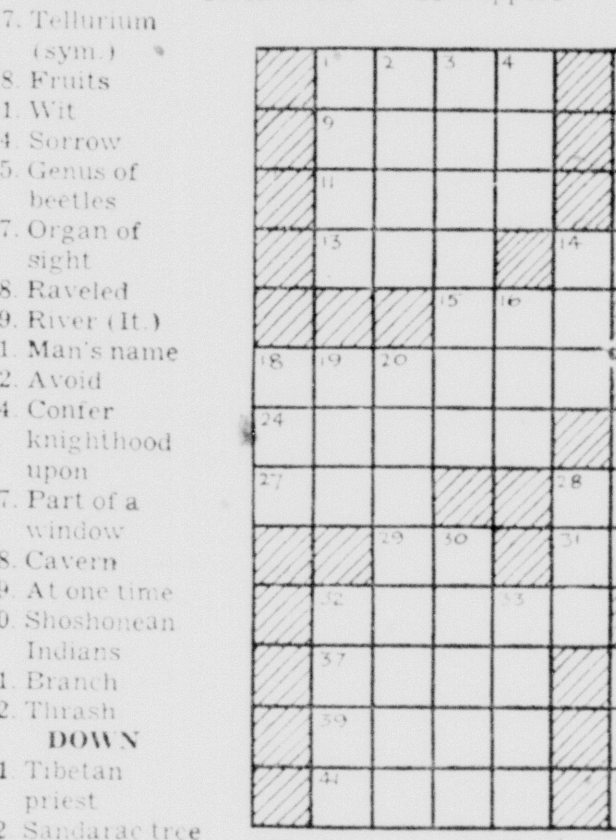

Mickey Constantine, army dischargee who was knocked out of the Temple lineup by injuries three weeks ago, today was slated to play against West Virginia tonight. Coach Ray Morrison now has replacements three deep on each end.

Villanova's Wildcats were slated for another still practice session today in preparation for Sunday's encounter with the University of Detroit. The game will be the Cats' first appearance in the Quaker City.

Maj. William F. Dimaway III of State college, a veteran of the Normandy campaign and former Penn State track star, has been admitted to the Center county bar and will resume his law practice as soon as his service is terminated.

Youngstown Battler Hopes To Get Decision In Rubber Match With Guido

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—(INS)—Tony Janiro, sensational Youngstown, Ohio, fighter will be out to even an old score when he takes on Al Guido of New York in their rubber ten-round bout tonight at the St. Nicholas arena.

About a year ago, Janiro had won 23 straight fights as a pro when Guido best him. Subsequently, Janiro reversed the decision.

Janiro has been matched for a return bout with Johnny Greco at Madison Square Garden on November 9.

Claim Horse Doped Prior To Racing

LAUREL, Md., Oct. 19.—(INS)—The Maryland Racing Commission announced Thursday that the thoroughlybred British Buddy winner of last Saturday's $15,000 Maryland handicap was given a stimulant before the race.

The horse is owned by Morris Wexler of Ohio.

George P. Maloney, commission chairman, declared that the $11,755 purse earned by British Buddy would be withheld pending a hearing.

Canton Boxer Is Given Fine

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 19.—(INS)—Pete Vellio, welterweight boxer of Canton, O., was fined $100 last night for putting up an unsatisfactory showing against Bobby Simon.

Leon Shiring, deputy boxing commissioner, fined the Ohio fighter after he was knocked down three times in the third and failed to put up a defense.

The eyes of undefeated, untied Purdue today were on halfback Dave Shaw, injured star who will return to action at Columbus, O. Saturday against Ohio State. Shaw was injured against Marquette after a brilliant showing, and is being counted on heavily in the crucial western conference tilt against the Buckeyes.

Relief Rolls Of State Now Have 266,400 Names

HARRISBURG, Oct. 19.—The number of Pennsylvania dependents on public assistance increased by 3,100 during the month of September to a total of 266,400. Three-fourths of the increase (2,273) occurred in the Aid to Dependent Children rolls.

A review of the reason for opening Aid to Dependent Children cases during September points up certain effects of the war's termination. Outstanding among these is the addition of cases to the rolls because of the termination of Federal dependency allowances or allotments to families of servicemen following their discharge from the service, providing there are insufficient means for current support. Additional cases of dependency are caused by job losses to teenagers who have left school to assume support of their families and lay-off of mothers who had made temporary arrangements for the care of their children in order to take wartime employment.

In all types of assistance, cases are being added to the rolls because of employment or lowered wages resulting from reduced working hours make it impossible for relatives to continue contributions to the support of their needy kin. In addition, elderly or physically handicapped persons are becoming surplus in the labor market as young and physically able labor becomes increasingly available.

Of the 266,400 persons on assistance rolls at the end of September, 75,200 were receiving Old-Age Assistance, 85,500 Aid to Dependent Children, 12,800 Blind Pensions, and 2,900 General Assistance.

Admiral Halsey Is Back At Home

Third Fleet Commander At Home
In Delaware After Cross-
Continent Flight

GREENVILLE, Del., Oct. 19.—(INS.)—Admiral William F. (Bill) Halsey, colorful commander of the third fleet, relaxed with his family in Greenville today, after a non-stop flight from Los Angeles.

Admiral Halsey arrived at the New Castle army air base late yesterday and was greeted by his wife, three daughters and three grandsons.

Accompanied by him miniature flags and souvenirs for his grandchildren, along with the family saddle presented to him recently by a group of midwestern ranchers.

Admiral Halsey gave his six-year-old grandson, Halsey Squawke, a toy white horse—a replica of the one the fleet commander had hoped to ride through Tokyo.

Halsey will make no public appearances until Navy Day, when he will go to Indianapolis. After that he will make a three-week tour of the nation in connection with the eighth war bond drive.

Later he will return to the east coast to await his retirement, granted by the navy, to become official.

Church Honors Rev. H. H. Grove

Rev. Grove Begins Second Year Of Pastorate At Emmanuel
Evangelical Church

Members and friends of the Emmanuel Evangelical church gathered Wednesday evening to honor the pastor Rev. H. H. Grove, and his family as they begin the second year of their pastorate here.

A program was given under the direction of George Strehler, a highlight of which was a piano duet by Mrs. George Strehler and Mrs. Margaret Wedder.

A purse was presented the honored guests on behalf of the congregation by Russell Thompson, Sunday school superintendent. Rev. and Mrs. Grove responded with words of appreciation.

The evening was spent informally, and delicious refreshments were served by a committee in charge.
